RESOLUTION—No. 9817L.R.

READ—

The Report of the Board of Revenue on the Administration of Wards', Attached and Trust Estates in the Presidency of Bengal for the year 1328 B.S. (1921-22).

1. Number of estates under management.—The number of estates under the management of the Court of Wards at the beginning of the year under report was 64, and two new estates were brought under the charge of the Court during the year. There were thus 66 estates under the Court of Wards at the close of the year. No estate was released during the year.

2. Collection of rent and cesses.—The total demand of rent and cesses during the year was Rs. 1,09,04,745, of which Rs. 42,48,522 or 33·9 per cent. was collected against 38·8 per cent. in the previous year. The percentage of collection on current demand has also fallen off from 101·2 to 97·6. The bad collection, which is below the standard rate of 100 per cent., is generally due to the fall in the price of jute and also to the damage done by floods in certain cases. The outstanding balance due to all estates at the close of the year aggregated over Rs. 59 lakhs representing 135·9 per cent. on the current demand, as against 150·3 per cent. in the preceding year.

3. Debts of estates.—During the year the total debts of the estates under management amounted to Rs. 33,51,376, against Rs. 34,51,337 in the previous year. The principal was reduced by Rs. 3,09,461, and interest amounting to Rs. 1,67,978 was paid during the year under report. Repayments have been made, so far as possible, in accordance with the schemes prepared for most of the important estates.

4. Cost of management and audit of expenditure.—The cost of management of the estates has risen to 15·2 per cent. of the current demand from 13·7 per cent. in the preceding year, the standard of 10 per cent. having been exceeded in all the divisions. The increase is mainly due to the enhanced pay granted to the employés of the estates owing to the rise in the cost of living. Attempts are, however, being made to reduce the high cost of management in certain cases.

5. Civil suits and certificate procedure.—The total number of certificates for disposal was 32,570, which covered an aggregate demand of Rs. 8,83,705. Out of this, 16,595 certificates were disposed of, and a sum of Rs. 4,48,350 representing 50·7 per cent. of the total claim was realised during the year, against 56·4 per cent. in the previous year. Out of 6,597 civil suits for disposal, 6,173 cases were disposed of, and a total sum of Rs. 1,58,053 was recovered during the year, leaving Rs. 2,97,485 as outstanding at the close of the year. The Governor in Council desires to emphasize the necessity for taking early steps to reduce the heavy outstanding balances reported from year to year.

6. Expenditure on improvement and education.—The total sum spent during the year on schools, dispensaries and works of improvement was Rs. 2,86,331, which is about 6·5 per cent. of the current rent and cess demand for the year. The standard percentage fixed under the rules for minimum expenditure on the heads of education and works of sanitary and agricultural improvements jointly has therefore been exceeded.

7. General.—During the year under report a special officer was temporarily appointed to examine the system of management of the Dacca Nawab family estate with a view to its reorganisation. Miss Cornelia Sorabji, Lady Adviser to the Court of Wards, the value of whose work was acknowledged last year, went on furlough pending retirement towards the close of the year, and it has been decided to abolish the post after her retirement.

8. The thanks of the Governor in Council are due to the Board of Revenue for the efficient administration of the estates under the Court of Wards. He has also noted with pleasure the good work done by the managers mentioned in the report.

By order of the Governor in Council,

M. C. McALPIN,
Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL PROGRESS REPORT ON THE FOREST ADMINISTRATION IN THE PRESIDENCY OF BENGAL FOR THE YEAR ENDING THE 31st MARCH 1922.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

Forests Branch.

CALCUTTA, THE 9TH NOVEMBER 1922.

RESOLUTION—No. 9700For.

READ—

The Annual Progress Report on the Forest Administration in the Presidency of Bengal for the year ending the 31st March 1922.

READ ALSO—

The report of the previous year and the Government Resolution thereon.

SIR HENRY FARRINGTON held charge of the department from the 1st April to the 25th April 1921, when he went on leave, being relieved by Mr. J. R. P. Gent. Mr. R C. Milward has been in charge of the department since the 4th July 1921.

2. Changes in area.—The total area of the different classes of forest at the close of the year was 10,696 square miles, representing 13·5 per cent. of the total area of the province. There was an increase of 4 square miles under reserved forests, and a decrease of 6 square miles under protected forests, due to disforestation of certain areas in the Sundarbans.

3. Working-plans.—Revised working-plans for 46 square miles in the Darjeeling and Kurseong divisions were sanctioned during the year, and those for Chittagong, the Chittagong Hill Tracts and Cox's Bazar divisions are nearing completion. The prescriptions of the existing working-plans were carried out with the exception of certain important deviations in the Sundarbans, Jalpaiguri and Buxa divisions.

4. Communications and buildings.—One hundred and forty-six miles of roads and paths at a cost of Rs. 29,374 were constructed during the year as against 128 miles costing Rs. 25,426 during the preceding year. In the Cox's Bazar division 23 miles of useful grazing paths were constructed to enable the villagers to take their buffaloes to the Chittagong Hill Tracts and to protect the reserves from illicit grazing. It is interesting to note that the Forest Department maintain 396 miles of cart roads, 939 miles of bridle paths. and 327 miles of other paths.

Rupees 61,561 was spent on new buildings and Rs. 36,829 on repairs, including the cost of reconstruction of some of the boat-houses and bungalows in the Chittagong division destroyed by incendiaries.

5. Protection.—The number of forest offences was 2,865 as against 3,248, the average of the preceding three years. The number of cases actually tried was, however, only 222. Most of the cases of injury by fire were undetected, and more than half of them occurred in the Buxa division. The exceptional drought during the first three months of 1922 and the unrest among tea-garden coolies in the eastern part of the Jalpaiguri district were responsible for the increase in damage done by fire in the Buxa division.

There was no reduction in the area open to grazing, which amounted to 45 per cent. of the total forest area. In the Chittagong and Cox's Bazar divisions 40,224 cattle passes were issued during the year.

The forests did not escape from their natural enemies, and as usual insects, wild animals and elephants committed some havoc.

6. Silviculture.—The report contains an interesting account of both natural and artificial reproduction. Some interesting figures relating to taungya plantations that have been quoted show that the costs of the operations vary very greatly between the hills and the plains In the plains it is almost a losing concern. It is hoped that some less expensive methods will be devised in consultation with the Agriculture Department who have already been interesting themselves in the work.

7. Exploitation.—The year's proceeds from the sale of timber, fuel, bamboo, grass and other minor produce amounted to Rs. 14·84 lakhs. Departmental kheddah operations carried on jointly with the Bhutan Durbar in the Buxa-Bhutan mahal and in the Chittagong Hill Tracts and Kalimpong divisions brought in a profit of Rs. 21,880. The license to prospect for mineral oil was renewed to the Burma Oil Company. Large quantities of sleepers were sawn and supplied to the Eastern Bengal Railway, besides sal logs sent to Messrs. Martin and Company, Calcutta, and to Messrs. Howard Brothers, London, for disposal. The total outturn of timber of different kinds amounted to 7·75 millions of cubic feet during the year as compared with 7·33 millions of cubic feet during the preceding year. Box planking from the departmental saw mill at Sukna was sold to the local tea gardens. A departmental depôt opened at Darjeeling for the continuous supply of charcoal gave quite satisfactory results.

The Buxa Timber Trading Company finished their royalty-free period at the end of June 1921 and are now paying royalty under the terms of their agreement. Messrs. Andrew Yule and Company, Limited, removed bamboos from the Kessalong range in the Chittagong Hill Tracts for paper pulp.

The Forest Department took part in the annual fair at Kalimpong, and the forest exhibits served a useful purpose.

It is satisfactory to find that the appointment of the Forest Engineer has proved useful. He has enabled the experiment in modern methods of exploitation to be placed on a sounder footing.

8. Financial results.—The financial results of the year, which the Conservator has reviewed in Chapter V of the report, have not been so satisfactory as compared with those of the preceding year. The net income has fallen from Rs. 8·48 lakhs in 1920-21 to Rs. 6·10 lakhs. The decrease has been due to certain unforeseen causes, e.g. :—

(1) the loss of a lakh of rupees in royalty from a lessee, who became insolvent and failed to work his lot in the Sundarbans ;

(2) a lesser export from the Sundarbans of golpatta leaves owing to the distress in the Khulna district ; and

(3) the general political situation leading to the depression of trade and the railway strikes which prevented timber merchants from carrying on their business.

Moreover, there was an increase in the cost of establishment owing to the revision of pay of different classes of officers.

9. The non-co-operation movement affected the Forest Department, and in the Chittagong and Cox's Bazar divisions much mischief was done by the non-co-operators. They looted a considerable amount of forest produce, caused damage to the forests, set fire to several forest buildings including the bungalow of the Divisional Forest Officer at Cox's Bazar, assaulted forest subordinates, and made the lives of touring officers a burden to them.

10. The thanks of the Governor in Council are due to Mr. R. C. Milward for the successful administration of the department and for creating public interest in the problems of the Forest Department by his popular lecture in Calcutta on the 21st January 1922. His Excellency in Council also notices with pleasure the good work done by the various officers, to whom a reference has been made in the report.

ORDER.—Ordered that this resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and that a copy with a copy of the report be submitted to the Government of India.

By order of the Governor in Council,

M. C. McALPIN,
Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE SALT DEPARTMENT IN BENGAL DURING THE YEAR 1921-22.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 2668S.R.—The 7th November 1922.—The following extracts from the Report of the Commissioner of Excise and Salt, Bengal, on the administration of the Salt Department in the Presidency of Bengal during the year 1921-22 are published for general information.

A. MARR,
Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

No. 3584E., dated Calcutta, the 14th August 1922.

From—S. C. MUKERJEE, ESQ., I.C.S., Commissioner of Excise and Salt, Bengal,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

I have the honour to submit the following consolidated report on the administration of the Salt Department for the year 1921-22. The report deals with the preventive operations in the saliferous districts of the Presidency, which were under the control of the Commissioner of Excise and Salt, and with the importation and issue of salt under the control of the Customs authorities.

2. Charge of the Department.—I was in charge of the Department from the 1st April 1921 to the 27th July 1921, when I went away on leave. Rai S. K. Raha Bahadur, Deputy Commissioner of Excise and Salt, officiated during my absence and held charge during the remainder of the year.

CHAPTER I.

3. Credit system of payment of duty.—The Collector of Customs, Calcutta, reports that the system continued to be much partonised. There were 85 depositors during the year as compared with 67 in 1920-21, 12 of whom, however, subsequently closed their accounts, leaving a balance of 73. Securities to the extent of Rs. 1,00,55,300 were deposited during the year as compared with Rs. 95,46,400 in 1920-21. The amount of duty debited during the year under the system was Rs. 1,33,70,511 against Rs. 1,25,87,227 in the previous year. No credit system was in force at Chittagong.

4. Salt golas at Sulkea and Chittagong.—During the year under review the temporary golas at Sulkea were overhauled, new salt tubes purchased, and Boyd's automatic counters, which were indented for, have been received and are being tried. The Collector of Customs, Chittagong, reports that owing to extraordinary activity in the trade during the second and third quarters of the year under report the accommodation at the golas, both at Sadarghat and Moheshkhal, was found insufficient, and private warehouses had to be licensed for the storage of the surplus quantity. It has also been pointed out by the Commissioner of the Chitttagong Division that owing to short clearances in consequence of the railway strike during the second and third quarters of the year the accommodation at the golas was found insufficient. The removal of the Sadarghat golas to the Moheshkhal was not undertaken during the year as no allotment of funds was made for the project.

5. Consumption of duty-free salt for commercial purposes.—The quantity of salt delivered free of duty for commercial purposes, or on which a drawback was subsequently allowed, amounted to 7,250 maunds as compared with 7,786 maunds in 1920-21.

6. Manufacture of salt in Bengal.—The project to manufacture salt at Samudrapur in the Contai subdivision of the Midnapore district has been finally abandoned.

CHAPTER II.

Stocks, Imports and Clearances.

7. Accounts of stocks and issues.—The stocks, imports and clearances of salt in and from the ports of Calcutta and Chittagong for the years 1920-21 and 1921-22 are shown below :—

Stock, imports, etc	1920-21.	1921-22.
	Mds.	Mds
Total of all stocks at the commencement of the year	1,361,048	4,588,528
Total quantity imported during the year	16,071,248	12,619,114
Excess found in the golas	4,427	23,629
Total ...	17,436,723	17,231,271
Quantity of duty-paid salt actually issued during the year	12,342,749	12,609,087

Quantity of non-duty-paid salt removed under bond to the inland warehouses	425,496	287,800
Quantity written off during the year on account of wastage or otherwise ...	72,164	98,028
Total ...	12,848,195	13,002,165
Balance at the close of the year ...	4,588,528	4,229,106

There was a marked decrease in the import of salt and the clearances show an increase by 153,970 maunds.

8. Imports.— * * * * * * * * The total imports to Calcutta and Chittagong decreased by 21·7 per cent. and 19·08 per cent., respectively. In Calcutta there was a large decrease in the import of salt from Europe and other places. Indian salt alone showed an increase. This was, however, not the case at Chittagong where the imports of salt from Europe increased, but those from Port Said and Aden decreased, there being no import of Indian salt.

Out of the total importation of 11,210,121 maunds into the port of Calcutta 6,621,000 maunds or 59 per cent. were bonded in the Sulkea golas as compared with 61 per cent. in the previous year.

9. Sales of imported salt from shipboard and bond.— * * * * * * * * * * In Calcutta the sales from shipboard and from bond show increases by 4·05 per cent. and 11·6 per cent., respectively. In Chittagong the sales direct from shipboard increased by 107·4 per cent. and those from bond decreased by 10·9 per cent. There was an increase of 6·7 per cent. in the total sales of imported salt. During the year under report 112 steamers carrying salt entered the port of Calcutta as compared with 129 in the previous year. The decrease is said to be due to labour troubles in Great Britain.

10. Transactions in the golas.—The total transactions at the golas in Calcutta and Chittagong for the past five years are given below :—

Years.	Calcutta.	Chittagong
	Mds.	Mds.
1917-18	13,605,327	1,364,536
1918-19	14,266,818	2,070,799
1919-20	15,278,108	1,310,126
1920-21	16,504,658	2,979,335
1921-22	13,570,870	2,466,347

* * * * * * * * *

12. Inland bonded warehouses.—There were 5 private bonded warehouses in this Presidency as compared with 8 in the previous year, viz., 1 at Narainganj, 2 at Jhalakati and 2 at Chandpur. One warehouse at Jhalakati was subsequently closed. Thus at the close of the year only 4 warehouses remained. The quantity of salt despatched to the above four inland warehouses from shipboard and golas in the ports of Calcutta and Chittagong was 287,800 maunds as compared with 394,192 maunds, showing a decrease by 26·99 per cent. The decrease was partly due to the abolition of one warehouse at Jhalakati and partly to the importation of duty-paid salt direct from Calcutta. No quantity of salt was despatched to the bonded warehouses in other provinces

* * * * * * *

CHAPTER III.

Consumption and Prices.

15. Consumption.—The total quantity of salt which passed into consumption in this Presidency during the year under report was 8,814.794 maunds against 8,446,396 maunds in the previous year. This is exclusive of 4,892,671 maunds, the net export by rail, road or river to other provinces and frontier countries, but inclusive of 7,250 maunds issued free of duty for commercial purposes.

16. Prices of salt in Bengal generally.— * * *

* * * * * * *

There was a slight increase over the last year's average. The Collector of Customs, Calcutta, reports a decrease in the price of salt from Rs. 158 in 1920-21 to Rs. 90 per 100 maunds during the year under report. In Chittagong also the average price of salt per 100 maunds fell from Rs. 141 to Rs. 132. The average wholesale price per 100 maunds of Liverpool salt was Rs. 113 as compared with Rs. 130-0-7 in the previous year.

* * * * * * *

CHAPTER V.

Financial results.

19. Receipts and charges.— * * * *

* * The receipts show an increase by Rs. 15,67,354 or 11·18 per cent. and the charges a decrease by Rs. 1,18,416 or 27·65 per cent. The net revenue was Rs. 1,52,67,812 which was larger than that of the previous year by Rs. 16,85,770 or 12·11 per cent. The increase in the receipts occurred under the heads "Import duty on salt" and "Rents of warehouses." The charges do not include any share of the cost of the Customs Preventive Service, which is largely employed in safeguarding the salt revenue. As the Salt Preventive Department under my control has been amalgamated with the Excise Department, the whole expenditure of the two departments is debited to the head "6—Excise" in the first instance, a fixed sum of two lakhs being subsequently adjusted under "3—Salt."

CHAPTER VI.

Miscellaneous.

20. Saltpetre refineries and soda factories.—As in the previous year there were five licensed saltpetre refineries. viz., one each at Manicktola, Sulkea, Kakurgachi, Bahirsura and Baranagar. The quantity of refined saltpetre produced during the year was 4,399 maunds as compared with 9,587 maunds in the previous year. The decrease in the production was due to the absence of orders from foreign countries. The quantity of salt reduced in the process of refinement was 288 maunds as compared with 780 maunds in 1920-21 and the quantity of sitta (impure salt) left in the course of refinement was 244 maunds against 366 maunds in the previous year. There was a sale of 939 maunds of reduced salt during the year under report against nil in the year 1920-21. As in the preceding year the license fees realised from the saltpetre refineries amounted to Rs. 250.

Minister in charge: The Hon'ble Sir S. N. Banarji, Kt.

No. 2822P.H.—The 14th November 1922.—The following draft of rules, which, in exercise of the power conferred by section 290 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884 (Bengal Act III of 1884), the Government of Bengal (Ministry of Local Self-Government) propose to make and subject to which the Commissioners of the Krishnagar Municipality may allow communication-pipes to be laid down from the service-pipes of the Commissioners for the purpose of leading water to premises for domestic purposes only, are published for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby.

Nadia.

2. The draft rules will be taken into consideration on the 2nd January 1923, and any objection or suggestion which may be received by the undersigned through the District Magistrate before that date will be duly considered.

Draft rules.

So long as the Commissioners deem it practicable and consistent with the maintenance of an efficient water-supply, they may allow any owner or occupier of a holding paying a water-rate imposed under the provisions of Part VII of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884, on the annual value of such holding, when such annual value is not less than Rs. 100, to lay down communication-pipes from the service-pipes of the Commissioners for the purpose of leading water to such holding for domestic purposes only, subject to the following rules and conditions :

Provided that no connection shall be allowed to holdings other than masonry buildings without the sanction of the Commissioners at a meeting :—

1. The owner or occupier of any holding requiring water to be laid on to such holding for domestic purposes, or requiring any addition or alteration to an existing water-supply, must apply for the same on a printed form to be supplied, free of cost, at the municipal office.

2. A fee of Rs. 100 must be paid to the Commissioners by such owner or occupier for each connection to a municipal main supply-pipe or a common communication-pipe laid in accordance with rule 3 before any work is commenced, such fee to be in addition to all other costs and charges imposed under these rules.

3. Except as provided below each holding must have a separate connection to the municipal main supply-pipe and extensions from the communication-pipe of one holding to another holding shall not be permitted :

Provided that with the consent of the Commissioners in meeting connections to two or more holdings may be permitted from a common communication-pipe. Any such communication-pipe must be laid in a street or common passage, and a stop-cock and meter as provided for in rule 7 must be fixed on the connection to each holding :

Provided also that no holding shall have more than one separate connection, but if in any case the Commissioners are satisfied that an adequate supply to any holding cannot be given through a single connection, they may sanction a second connection thereto.

4. The owner or occupier of the holding in respect of which the connection is required, must pay the entire cost of the connection, including the supply and fixing of the fittings referred to in rule 7, and must also pay the cost of such alterations in, or repairs to, roads, drains, sewers, gas or water-mains or pipes, and the cost of such other works as may be necessitated by, or result from, the work of making such connection.

5. The owner or occupier of the holding to which a connection has been given must, at any time, on receipt of notice to do so from the Commissioners, pay the entire cost of any repairs or alterations to the connection or any part thereof that the Commissioners may consider necessary to put it into a satisfactory condition or which may be necessitated by any change in the municipal water-works or system of distribution or by the defective condition of the connection or any part thereof or by any other cause whatever.

6. (1) The works required under rules 4 and 5 may, at the option of the Commissioners, either be carried out by the Commissioners themselves at the expense of the owner or occupier of the holding in respect of which the works are required, or may be carried out by a person or firm employed by such owner or occupier and approved by the Commissioners.

(2) No work shall be carried out under sub-rule (1), except under the supervision of a municipal officer.

7. A holding connection shall comprise the following parts or fittings :—

(a) a brass or gun-metal ferrule inserted in the main supply-pipe ;

(b) a galvanized iron communication-pipe from the ferrule to the meter ;

(c) a stop-cock and its surface box ;

(d) a meter ;

(e) service-pipes from the stop-cock to the taps ; and

(f) taps.

8. (1) All the fittings referred to in rule 7 shall be exact duplicates of standard samples kept in the office of the Commissioners, and approved by them in meeting.

(2) All fittings shall be inspected and tested and stamped by an officer of the municipality before being fixed.

(3) If any owner or occupier shall desire to adopt any fitting of a pattern different from the standard patterns, he must present such fitting for the approval of the Chairman, and any fittings so presented may, if considered satisfactory by the Chairman, be stamped, and samples thereof may be purchased and placed among the standard fittings.

9. The holding connection, when fitted in position, must be capable of standing a pressure of 40 feet, and no water shall be supplied until it has stood such a test applied by the Commissioners.

10. The size of the ferrule and the diameter of the communication-pipe referred to in clauses (a) and (b) of rule 7, and the number of taps shall be fixed in accordance with the annual valuation of the holdings as follows :—

Annual valuation of holding.			Sizes of ferrule.	Diameter of communication-pipe.	Number of taps.
	Rs.	Rs.	Inch.	Inch.

„	1,500	„ 1,999	¾	1	7
„	2,000 and above special sanction of the Commissioners.

11. (1) On every communication-pipe a brass or gun-metal stop-cock having the same water-way as such pipe shall be placed as near as practicable to the point where that pipe enters the holding to be supplied.

(2) The stop-cock shall be built in a brick chamber provided with a cast-iron surface cover-box so designed that it can be locked and the key of this box shall remain under the control of the Chairman.

(3) The stop-cock shall be capable of adjustment so that the supply to the holding may be regulated thereby.

12. (1) The meter shall be placed as near to the stop-cock as possible and in a position where it can be conveniently examined.

(2) The meter must be fixed in a brick chamber covered over with a cast-iron surface box of approved pattern.

13. Neither the stop-cock nor the meter must be placed in any private premises.

14. The Commissioners shall depute an authorized person to read every meter not less than once a quarter, and shall give notice to the occupier at least twenty-four hours before the reading is recorded.

15. (1) Every owner or occupier of any holding, in respect of which a connection has been made, under these rules, shall be entitled to a supply of—

(a) Two thousand two hundred and fifty gallons of water per quarter per rupee of water tax paid during the quarter,

(b) a further proportionate number of gallons per quarter for every additional fraction of a rupee, paid by him quarterly as water-rate in respect of such holding.

(d) For any excess quantity of water exceeding twice the amount of the allowance prescribed in sub-rule (1) ...	1 4 0

16. The Commissioners may cut off the connection between any water-works of the municipality and any holding to which water is supplied from such works, or may turn off such supply, in any of the following cases, namely :—

(a) if the holding is unoccupied ;

(b) if the occupier refuses to admit any officer duly empowered in that behalf into the holding for the purpose of making any examination or inspection authorized under this Act, or under any by-law or rule framed under this Act, or prevents such officer from making such examination or inspection ;

(c) if the owner or occupier of the holding touches or interferes with his meter in any way except with the permission of the Chairman, or wilfully injures or damages it ;

(d) if the owner or occupier of the holding wilfully or negligently permits waste of water in such volume as will, in the opinion of the Chairman, endanger the water-supply in the neighbourhood ;

(e) if the owner or occupier of the holding shall refuse or neglect to pay any of the fees or charges imposed in accordance with these rules for a space of fourteen days after he has been served with a notice of demand for the same ;

(f) if the owner or occupier of the holding constructs or fixes any cisterns, tanks, reservoirs, taps, pipes or any other works in connection with the water-supply not authorized by these rules ;

(g) if the pipes, taps, ball-cocks, cisterns, or any other parts of the connection are, in the opinion of the Commissioners at a meeting, in a leaking condition or a state of disrepair :

Provided that such disconnection or turning off of water-supply shall not relieve any person from any liabilities which he may have incurred under these rules.

In the circumstances contemplated in clause (d) an officer authorized by the Commissioners in this behalf by a general order shall have the power to turn off the supply for a period not exceeding eight hours on his previously recording his reason in writing.

17. Every tap shall be of the same size as the pipe to which it is attached and shall be of brass and of the pattern known as "Screw-down". Every tap shall be at least 3 feet above the surface of the ground beneath.

18. No cistern, tank or reservoir of any description which is intended to be supplied with water from the municipal water-works shall be permitted to any holding except with the sanction of the Commissioners in meeting, and such sanction shall distinctly specify the dimensions and capacity of the cistern, tank or reservoir allowed. The inlet to every such cistern, tank or reservoir must be controlled by an efficient ball-cock so that the discharge thereinto is completely stopped when the cistern, tank or reservoir is full. Any taps fed from such cistern, tank or reservoir must be included in the number of taps allowed under rule 10.

19. No connection shall be permitted to any holding unless and until the owner or occupier makes effective provision to the satisfaction of the Commissioners for draining all waste water away.

1. The denaturing of imported spirit in the Custom House or in a licensed warehouse shall be conducted according to the following rules :—

(1) The ingredients to be used for denaturing spirit shall be "light caoutchoucine" and "pyridine bases" * added in the proportion of ½ per cent. of each. The pyridine bases must be manufactured from mineral (coal-tar) and not animal sources A guarantee as to the mineral source of the pyridine bases shall be furnished by the importer or the person desiring to denature the spirit. To every 99 gallons of plain spirit there shall be added half a gallon of light caoutchoucine and half a gallon of pyridine bases. The minimu m strength of spirit to be denatured shall be 55° O. P.

* For the specifications and tests of "light caoutchoucine" and "pyridine bases", vide Government of Bengal, Finance Department, Notification No. 461S.R., dated the 11th March 1918, published in Part I, pages 89—93 of the Calcutta Gazette of the 12th idem.

(2) The ingredients mentioned in clause (1) shall be procured at his own expense by the importer or the person desiring to denature the spirit. Before admixture the ingredients shall be lodged at the Custom House or at some other suitable place to be approved by the Collector of Customs, who shall cause samples to be tested in order to satisfy himself that the ingredients are suitable for denaturing alcohol.

(3) When the mixture of the denaturants with the spirit is completed, the liquor shall be tested by drawing a sample of about half an ounce from each cask or drum, and adding to each sample separately three or four times the quantity of water. If the mixture becomes milky, the liquor shall ordinarily be admitted at the reduced rate of duty. In cases of dispute the decision of the Collector shall be final. In any case in which the Collector considers such a course necessary he may direct that samples of the liquid shall be examined and reported on.

Provided that—

(a) if the consignment contains casks or drums of not less than 50 gallons each, the person denaturing may demand that not less than one sample shall be sent from each such cask or drum ; and

(b) if the consignment contains casks or drums of less than 50 gallons each, the person denaturing may, and shall, if so ordered by the Collector, before admixture of the denaturants pour the contents of two or more such casks or drums into one or more casks or drums of not less than 50 gallons capacity ; and, when this is done, the spirit shall be treated, for the purpose of testing and for the levy of expenses under clauses (5) and (6), as if originally stored in such larger casks or drums.

(4) Should any of the samples examined be reported as not being denatured spirit within the meaning of clause (1) above, the claim in respect of the whole of the spirit represented by such sample shall be rejected, and the spirit shall either be dealt with in all respects as spirit chargeable with the ordinary rate of duty, or, if the person denaturing the spirit so desire, it shall be further treated under clauses (1), (2) and (3) so as to render it denatured spirit within the meaning of clause (1) above.

(5) A fee of Rs. 2 shall be paid by the person denaturing the spirit for each sample of the ingredients referred to in clause (1) or the liquid referred to in clause (3) sent for chemical analysis.

(6) Any expense which may be incurred by the Collector in connection with the denaturing of spirit or the testing of denatured spirit shall be paid by the person denaturing the spirit before the removal of the spirit is allowed.

(7) Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, the Collector may allow special methods of denaturation for spirit to be used in particular arts or manufactures if he is satisfied that the local Government (Excise Department) within whose jurisdiction it is intended to use the spirit have duly sanctioned the use of such spirit by the person or persons for whom it is being denatured.

Part II.—Rules for admitting spirit declared to have been denatured before importation.

2. Whenever spirit is declared to have been denatured, prior to importation by the admixture of ½ per cent. of "light caoutchoucine" and ½ per cent. of "pyridine bases" so as to bear the reduced rate of duty, under article 29 of Schedule II to the Indian Tariff Act, 1894 (VIII of 1894), as subsequently amended, the Collector shall cause an examination, and a report thereon to be made of such number of samples of such spirit as he may deem necessary.

3. The provisions of Part I as to examination and payment of fees shall apply to the testing of spirit under this Part.

In the examination the tests are at four grades of speed, 80, 100, 120, 140 words per minute, and at higher speeds if candidates can write more rapidly. Classes are held daily from 6 P.M. Fees are the same as for (c).

(e) Typewriting.—Beginners are admitted in July. Students having a minimum speed of 20 words per minute are admitted in December. The minimum speed required to pass the examination at the end of April is 35 words per minute. Certificates are issued for 35, 40, 45, 50, 55, 60 words per minute. For each of the speed tests there is a corresponding accuracy test in tabulating. Classes are held at 5, 6 and 7 P.M. Fees are the same as for (c).

Combination of the above subjects and reduction of fee.—If a student simultaneously takes up two or three of the subjects (a) to (e), a reduction of Re. 1 per instalment of each of the fees payable by him will be granted : for example, if a student is a member of both the Shorthand and the Elementary Book-keeping classes, he will have to pay instalments of Rs. 2 for each subject instead of Rs. 3 for the session, July to December.

(f), (g), (h), (i) and (j).—Classes are formed in these subjects if a sufficient number of candidates apply for admission. The fee for each subject is Rs. 3 for each series of ten lectures.

(k) Accountancy and Auditing.—There are two courses of year each for ordinary students, or one year for those who are already practising as Auditors, to prepare candidates for the Government examination of Diploma in Accountancy, which qualifies them to obtain the Government license to practise as Auditors. Students of this class have to attend Book-keeping and Mercantile Law classes, for which no extra fee has to be paid. The fee is Rs. 144, payable in advance in four half-yearly instalments of Rs. 36 each in the case of ordinary students and Rs. 72 in two half-yearly instalments of Rs. 36 each in the case of those who are practising as Auditors and hold a provisional license granted by Government.

2. Examinations.—The examination in subjects (a) to (j) is held at the end of April, at the end of the year's course, under the control of the Government Commercial Institute Board, and successful candidates receive certificates signed by the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, and countersigned by the Secretary to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce. The examination fee for each subject is Rs. 5.

3. Attendance.—Strict regularity and punctuality of attendance are observed. Students must attend 75 per cent. of the lectures in order to appear at the examination. Classes are not held in the evening on Saturday.

4. Standard of Admission.—Candidates who have attended the lectures of the day course are eligible for admission. Others will be admitted, provided they appear qualified for the class or classes they seek to join.

5. Prizes.—Prizes of Rs. 50 each are offered by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce to the best candidates from the evening classes in subjects (b), (d), (f), (g), (h), (i) and (j). Three medals are offered by the Remington Typewriter Co. to the best three students of either the day or evening classes in the Typewriting examination.

6. Admission.—Candidates for admission should send in their applications and register their names, with a deposit of fees, before the end of June. Candidates who desire to be admitted in December should apply before the end of November.

6. Any ship which has been, either wholly or partly, built, altered, armed, or equipped as a vessel of war in British India in contravention of section 3, or in any other part of His Majesty's Dominions or any State of India in contravention of any like provision of law in force in that part or State, shall, if found in British India, be liable to forfeiture under this Act.

Seizure, detention and search of ships.

7. (1) Where a ship is liable to forfeiture under this Act,—

(a) any Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class, or

(b) any commissioned officer on full pay in the military, naval or air service of His Majesty, or any gazetted officer of the Royal Indian Marine Service, or

(c) any officer of customs or police-officer not below such rank as may be designated in this behalf by the Governor General in Council, may seize such ship and detain it, and, if the ship is found at sea within the territorial waters of British India, may bring it to any convenient port in British India.

(2) Any officer taking any action under sub-section (1) shall forthwith report the same through his official superiors to the Local Government.

(3) The Local Government shall, within thirty days of the seizure, either cause the ship to be released or make or cause to be made, in the manner hereinafter provided, an application for the forefeiture thereof, and may make such orders for the temporary disposal of the ship as it thinks suitable.

Procedure in forfeiture of ships.

8. (1) An application for the forfeiture of a ship under this Act may be made by, or under authority from, the Local Government to any competent Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the ship is for the time being.

(2) On receipt of any such application, the Court shall cause notice thereof and of the date fixed for the hearing of the application to be served upon all persons appearing to it to have an interest in the ship, and may give such directions for the temporary disposal of the ship as it thinks fit.

(3) For the purpose of disposing of an application under this section, the Court shall have the same powers and follow, as nearly as may be, the same procedure as it respectively has and follows for the purpose of the trial of suits under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, and any order made by the Court under this section shall be deemed to be a decree and the provisions of the said Code in regard to the execution of decrees shall, as far as they are applicable, apply accordingly. V of 1908.

(4) Where the Court is satisfied that the ship is liable to forfeiture under this Act, it shall pass an order forfeiting the ship to His Majesty :

Provided that where any person having an interest in the ship proves to the satisfaction of the Court that he has not abetted, or connived at, or by his negligence facilitated, in any way, a contravention of section 3 in respect of the ship, and such ship has not been built as a vessel of war, it may pass such other order as it thinks fit in respect of the ship or, if it be sold, of the sale proceeds thereof :

Provided further, that in no case shall any ship which has been altered, armed or equipped as a vessel of war be released until it has been restored, to the satisfaction of the Local Government, to such condition as not to render it liable to forfeiture under this Act.

(5) The Local Government or any person aggrieved by any order of a Court, other than a High Court, under this section may within three months of the date of such order, appeal to the High Court.

Disposal of forfeit.

9. Where a ship has been forfeited to His Majesty under section 8 it may be disposed of in such manner as the Local Government, subject to the control of the Governor General in Council, directs :

Provided that, where the ship is sold under this section, due regard shall be had to the obligations imposed by the Treaty.

Special proof of relevant facts.

10. If, in any trial, appeal or other proceeding under the foregoing provisions of this Act, any question arises as to whether a ship is a vessel of war, or whether any alteration, arming or equipping of a ship is such as to adapt it for use as a vessel of war, the question shall be referred to and determined by the Governor General in Council, whose decision shall be final and shall not be questioned in any Court.

Penalties for proceeding to sea after seizure.

11. (1) Where a ship which has been seized or detained under section 7 or section 8 and has not been released by competent authority under this Act proceeds to sea, the master of the ship shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, and the owner and any person who sends the ship to sea shall be likewise so punishable unless such owner or person proves that the offence was committed without his knowledge and consent.

(2) Where any ship so proceeding to sea takes to sea, when on board thereof in the execution of his duty, any officer empowered by this Act to seize and detain the ship, the owner and master shall further each be liable, on the order of the Court trying an offence punishable under sub-section (1), to pay all the expenses of and incidental to such officer being taken to sea, and shall further be punishable with fine which may extend to one hundred rupees for every day until such officer returns or until such time as would enable him after leaving the ship to return to the port from which he was taken.

(3) Any expenses ordered to be paid under sub-section (2) may be recovered in the manner provided in the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, for the recovery of a fine. V of 1898

ARTICLE XVIII.

Each of the Contracting Powers undertakes not to dispose by gift, sale or any mode of transfer of any vessel of war in such a manner that such vessel may become a vessel of war in the navy of any foreign Power.

CHAPTER II.—PART 3.—SECTION 1.

* * * *

(4) The standard displacement in tons and metric tons of each new ship to be laid down, and the principal dimensions, namely, length at waterline, extreme beam at or below waterline, mean draught at standard displacement.

(5) The date of completion of each new ship and its standard displacement in tons and metric tons, and the principal dimensions, namely, length at waterline, extreme beam at or below waterline, mean draught at standard displacement, at time of completion.

PART 4.—DEFINITIONS.

For the purposes of the present Treaty, the following expressions are to be understood in the sense defined in this Part.

Capital Ship.

A capital ship, in the case of ships hereafter built, is defined as a vessel of war, not an aircraft carrier, whose displacement exceeds 10,000 tons (10,160 metric tons) standard displacement, or which carries a gun with a calibre exceeding 8 inches (203 millimetres).

Aircraft Carrier.

An aircraft carrier is defined as a vessel of war with a displacement in excess of 10,000 tons (10,160 metric tons) standard displacement designed for the specific and exclusive purpose of carrying aircraft. It must be so constructed that aircraft can be launched therefrom and landed thereon, and not designed and constructed for carrying a more powerful armament than that allowed to it under Article IX or Article X, as the case may be.

Standard Displacement.

The standard displacement of a ship is the displacement of the ship complete, fully manned, engined, and equipped ready for sea, including all armament and ammunition, equipment, outfit, provisions and fresh water for crew, miscellaneous stores and implements of every description that are intended to be carried in war, but without fuel or reserve feed water on board.

The word "ton" in the present Treaty, except in the expression "metric tons," shall be understood to mean the ton of 2,240 pounds (1,016 kilo.).

Vessels now completed shall retain their present ratings of displacement tonnage in accordance with their national system of measurement. However, a Power expressing displacement in metric tons shall be considered for the application of the present Treaty as owning only the equivalent displacement in tons of 2,240 pounds.

A vessel completed hereafter shall be rated at its displacement tonnage when in the standard condition defined herein.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

On the 6th February 1922 a Treaty for the limitation of Naval Armaments was signed at Washington on behalf of His Majesty. This Treaty contained, inter alia, the provisions set out in the Schedule to this Bill. An Act enabling effect to be given to the Treaty has been passed by the British Parliament, but, as India is not included in that Act, it is necessary for the Indian Legislature to pass separate legislation for British India. The object of this Bill, therefore, is to give effect to the provisions of the Treaty, so far as British India is concerned, by restricting, subject to certain limitations and conditions, the building of vessels of war and the altering, arming or equipping of any ship so as to adapt her for use as a vessel of war.

No. 872M., dated Chinsura, the 30th June 1922.

From—K. C. De, Esq. C.I.E., I.C.S., Commissioner of the Burdwan Division.
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Local Self-Government Department.

I have the honour to submit herewith two statements, one shewing the ware houses licensed under the Fire Brigade Act, I of 1893, in the Howrah Municipality and the other shewing the receipts and disbursements on account of the same for the year 1921-22. The former statement has been prepared in accordance with the instructions contained in Government letter No. 470M., dated the 14th February 1917.

2. It will be seen that collection of fees was 95 per cent. of the current demand and 100 per cent. of the arrear demand. A copy of the Chairman, Howrah Municipality's letter No. 1009G. of the 17th June 1922 is enclosed.

No. 1009G., dated Howrah, the 17th June 1922.

From—Babu Charu Chandra Sinha, M.A., B.L., Chairman, Howrah Municipality.
To—The Magistrate of Howrah.

As requested in your letter No. 672G., dated the 4th June 1922, I have the honour to submit herewith two statements showing the warehouses licensed under the Fire Brigade Act, I of 1893, and receipts and disbursements of account of the same for the year 1921-22. The former statement has been prepared in accordance with the instructions contained in the Government of Bengal, Municipal Department, No. 470M., dated the 14th February 1917, to the Commissioner of the Burdwan Division, a copy of which was forwarded under his memorandum No. $\frac{187M.}{XXIII-8.}$, dated the 16th February 1917.

The collection of fees works out to be 95 per cent. of the current demand and cent per cent. of the arrear demand, as against 94 per cent. of the current demand and 59 per cent. of the arrear demand of the year 1920-21.

The demand for the year 1921-22 amounts to Rs. 32,864, and the collection amounts to Rs. 31,450, as against the demand of Rs. 30,232 and the collection of Rs. 28,494 for the year 1920-21.

This two-fold increase in the demand and collection as aforesaid necessitated no revision of the scale of fees levied under section 10 of the Act.

The direction contained in the first proviso to section 10 of the Act was followed.

No. 1956, dated Narikeldanga, the 31st July 1922.

From—BABU SASI BHUSAN MITRA, L.M.S., Chairman, Maniktola Municipality,

To—The Magistrate of the 24-Parganas, Alipore.

WITH reference to your letter No. M. 406-1-22, dated the 14th July 1922, received in this office on the 18th July 1922, I have the honour to submit herewith the Annual Report for the year 1921-22 on the working of the Jute Warehouse and Fire Brigade Act.

(1) The share of expenditure allotted to this municipality by the Commissioner of Police was Rs. 8,306 which was discharged in two instalments.

(2) The net revenue during the year under report amounted to Rs. 8,100-6, besides this a sum of Rs. 115 was received on account of fines and penalties under the Act.

The net revenue shown under this head in Form II submitted with Annual Administration Report was Rs. 8,098. This discrepancy of Rs. 2 is due to non-credit of the said amount within the last financial year, the same having been credited on 1st April 1922.

(3) License fees were levied on Jute Warehouses at the rate of 10 per cent. on the annual value of the holdings, subject to the maximum of Rs. 750.

(4) The jute godowns and fire-wood, hay and straw depôts are mostly situated near the Circular Canal which bound the municipality on all sides.

The Surah Jute Mills and the Jute Pressing Mill of Messrs. Landale Clarke are the two mills situated within this municipality.

(5) The following statements in the prescribed form are annexed herewith :—

(a) A statement showing the receipts and disbursements for the year 1921-22.

(b) A statement showing the number and locality of jute warehouses

No. 230 G.M., dated Garden Reach, the 18th July 1922.

From—J. A. MURRAY, ESQ., Chairman, Garden Reach Municipality,

To—The Magistrate of the 24-Parganas, Alipore.

WITH reference to your letter No. M.406-1-22, dated the 14th July 1922, I have the honour to report as follows on the working of the Licensed Jute Warehouse and Fire Brigade Act in this municipality for the year 1921-22 and to submit statements I and II in the prescribed form.

2. During the year under report the total income from jute warehouse fees and from rate under section 25(b) of the Fire Brigade Act as shown in statement I was Rs. 6,976 against Rs. 7,103-1 in the previous year. The amount of contribution paid to the Fire Brigade Fund was Rs. 12,460 against Rs. 12,645 in 1920-21.

In levying the jute warehouse fees the limitation prescribed by the provisos under section 10 of the Fire Brigade Act were strictly followed.

3. The rates at which the fees were levied were 8 per cent. on the annual value of large warehouses, 10 per cent. on the annual value of wood and straw depots, and ½ per cent. on the annual value of all bustee lands with huts, if any on them. A list of licensed warehouses within this municipality during the year under review is given in statement II.

No. 6339 F.B., dated Calcutta, the 14th October 1922.

From—SIR REGINALD CLARKE, Kt., C.I.E., Commissioner of Police, Calcutta,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Local Self-Government Department.

WITH reference to your letter No. 4980M., dated the 12th October 1922, I have the honour to forward herewith the Report on the Working of the Fire Brigade and Ambulance Department for the year 1921-22, submitted by the Chief Officer of the Brigade.

No. F. B., dated Calcutta, the 14th October 1922.

From—CAPTAIN BERNARD A. WESTBROOK, Chief Officer, Fire Brigade Calcutta,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Local Self-Government Department.

(Through Sir R. Clarke, Kt., C.I.E., Commissioner of Police, Calcutta.)

I HAVE the honour to present the following report on the working of the Calcutta Fire Brigade for the year ending the 31st March 1922.

2. Financial Statement.—The statement of receipts and expenditure and payments made by the municipalities within the jurisdiction of the Fire Brigade Act, I of 1893, is given in Appendix I.

3. Fires, etc.—During the year under review the Fire Brigade received calls for 673 fires or supposed fires, being an increase of 59 calls over the previous year.

The calls are classified as under (also see Appendix VII)—

Fires	... 466
False alarms, wilful	... 133
False alarms, with good intent, or due to electrical defects	... 72
Calls for special service, e.g., Buildings collapsing, etc.	... 2
Total	... 673

On one	day	14	fires or supposed fires occurred	... 14
On one	„	13	ditto ditto	... 13
On one	„	10	ditto ditto	... 10
On one	„	9	ditto ditto	... 9
On two	days	8	ditto ditto	... 16
On three	„	7	ditto ditto	... 21
On four	„	6	ditto ditto	... 24
On fourteen	„	5	ditto ditto	... 70
On thirty	„	4	ditto ditto	... 120
On forty-five	„	3	ditto ditto	... 135
On seventy-one	„	2	ditto ditto	... 142
On ninety-nine	„	1	ditto ditto	... 99
			Total	... 673

It is unsatisfactory to note that the number of false alarms given maliciously has increased from 96 in 1920-21 to 133 in 1921-22. Likewise there is a considerable increase of false alarms due to electrical defects in the fire alarm system which is maintained by the Bengal Telephone Company.

Few offenders have been arrested for giving wilful false alarms and the punishments inflicted are not sufficiently severe to have any detrimental effect.

The sources from which the false alarms were received are as follows :—

Wilful false alarms received from street fire alarms ...	129
False alarms due to electrical defects received from street fire alarms	47
False alarms due to electrical defects received from street fire alarms, given with good intent	10
False alarms received from private telephones	9
False alarms received from look-out men at fire stations ...	7
False alarms received from messengers	2
False alarms received from telephones in direct communication with fire stations	1

The Street Fire Alarm system has been of considerable utility, and 357 calls for actual fires were received by this means.

Undoubtedly in many cases serious fires have been averted owing to the rapidity with which calls can be transmitted directly to the Fire Brigade without the delay of being connected through the Telephone Exchange.

The actual number of calls received throughout the year was 953, which are detailed in Appendix LJ. This number includes instances where more than one call was received for the same fire, but does not include cases of subsequent calls from street fire alarms or telephones which were operated more than once for the occurrence.

The most serious city fire of the year occurred in the district known as Maidaputty on February 28th, 1922, when 17 two-storied timber-built premises (principally containing oil and gunnies) were practically destroyed and 11 four-storied and one two-storied buildings were damaged.

The area is an extremely congested one in the centre of a serious fire zone which is very inadequately supplied with water.

The first fire engines to arrive got to work in positions near to the fire but were unable to check the spread of the fire owing to the small amount of water available from the mains, which are of much too small a diameter.

Fire engines had to be employed on larger mains a considerable distance from the fire to draft water to the fire engines in the immediate vicinity of the fire.

Over 200 telephone messages were received concerning the fire from the inhabitants in the locality, and this extra load partially disabled the telephone system, which had the effect of rendering communication by the Fire Brigade from the fire to the Fire Brigade headquarters extremely difficult, messages often taking many minutes to get through.

It has now been decided to prescribe certain classes of buildings in this locality.

A serious epidemic of ship fires occurred in March at the Kidderpore Docks. In the majority of cases the ships were on the point of sailing when the fires were discovered.

During March 119 calls to fires or supposed fires were received, which is the busiest month recorded.

It is of interest to note that about 45 per cent. of the total fires of the year occurred in the months of January, February, March and April. This is according to average, and unfortunately has the effect of severely straining the resources of the Brigade during the months referred to.

If fires continue to increase in the same proportion as they have done during the past few years (see Appendix XVIII) the strength of the personnel and material of the Fire Brigade will have to be considerably augmented.

On October 30, 1921, the day of the Dewali Puja, 14 fires occurred, the causes of the majority of which are attributed to fireworks. The Brigade had a very strenuous time during the evening of that day, but fortunately only one fire resulted in serious damage.

It is unsatisfactory to note that 13 fires are attributed to incendiarism, which is above the average. Where there are reasonable grounds for doubt as to the origin of fires, causes are classified as "not ascertained."

Fire loss.—The total damage caused by fire and water during the year under review is estimated at Rs. 34,06,554, being an increase of Rs. 10,49,469.

This abnormally heavy loss is chiefly due to the epidemic of ship fires above mentioned, which accounts for about Rs. 15,00,000.

The average damage per fire is Rs. 5,061, as compared with Rs. 3,467 for the past ten years.

5. Summaries, as follows, detailing the figures noted in the two preceding sections are given in the appendices :—

6. Appliances.—Appendix X gives the nature and distribution of the principal appliances in commission by the Fire Brigade, and Appendix XI gives the number of times each appliance has been turned out to fire calls.

It is estimated that the motor appliances travelled 9,692 miles, and horse-drawn appliances 333 miles during the year under review in going to and returning from fire calls. Notwithstanding these distances accidents have been very rare, and considerable commendation is due to the Fire Brigade drivers, especially as the traffic conditions in Calcutta render fast driving a difficult and dangerous task.

A new motor fire engine (500 gallons per minute capacity) was received from Messrs. Dennis Brothers during the year and placed in commission.

Practically all repairs to motor appliances, etc., are carried out in the Fire Brigade workshops by the Fire Brigade staff, the efficient nature of which is evidenced by the general good working at fires, etc., and the manner in which repairs are expedited.

During the greater portion of the year under review the workshops have been under the charge of Engineer Tucker, who was promoted to Station Officer.

On this promotion Engineer Collins was appointed in charge of workshops.

Considerable difficulty is still experienced with hose. There is no doubt that the conditions in Calcutta, etc., are unusually severe on hose, which often is in use for over 100 hours at a jute fire, and sometimes as many as 300 lengths have to be employed at a single fire, owing to the distance water has to be drafted.

These conditions are practically unparalleled and of course render the wear and tear of hose abnormal.

It is hoped that hose of pre-war standard can now be obtained. During the past few years the quality of hose has depreciated, and the cost has increased greatly.

7. Fire Stations.—Appendix XII gives the number of times each fire station has been turned out in response to fire calls, together with monthly figures.

The headquarters of the Fire Brigade is still located in premises rented from the Samavaya Corporation, Limited, in Corporation Place, and no further steps have been taken to secure a suitable site for the erection of permanent headquarters. A high rent is paid for the present buildings which are not suitable for the purposes required, and undoubtedly the efficiency of the Brigade can be improved by the provision of suitable headquarters with proper workshops, drill yard and convenient quarters for the men. Moreover, economy could be effected by the erection of suitable headquarters owned by the Fire Brigade. The preceding paragraph is repeated from the report of last year.

I am pleased to be able to report that the District Fire Station in Central Avenue was completed and occupied in December 1921. (See frontispiece).

This station can provide a strong fire-fighting force in a very short space of time, for a very congested and thickly populated area.

It has accommodation for five motor appliances and 50 men.

The importance of the station is shewn by the fact that appliances therein dealt with 146 fires in four months (from the time of opening to the end of the year).

It is hoped that provision will be made for the necessary extensions to the Chitpur District Fire Station. This station protects a very important area containing a great number of dangerous fire risks, such as jute presses and warehouses, and the district is most inadequately supplied with water.

Station Officer Gawler is in charge of this District and has carried out his difficult duties in a creditable manner.

A District Fire Station is urgently needed in the Kidderpore Dock area, also smaller stations are required at Burra Bazar and Sovabazar.

Valuable time is frequently lost in proceeding to fires from the present stations owing to the exceedingly congested traffic in many parts of the city.

The staff and appliances at the Sibpur Fire Station have been transferred to the Howrah District Station, and it is anticipated it will not be necessary to re-occupy the small station at Sibpur.

8. Staff.—The strength of the Fire Brigade was 219 at the commencement of the year, the distribution and ranks of which are shewn in Appendix XIII.

During the year the posts of European driver, one Indian driver and two syces have been abolished. The post of Head Tindal has been sanctioned, also one junior carpenter and one blacksmith.

The strength of the Fire Brigade at the close of the year was 218.

The Second Officer, Mr. W. Jarrett, returned from leave in October 1921 and has carried on his duties in a very able manner.

Owing to the new leave rules sanctioned by Government the strength of the Fire Brigade is insufficient to cope with the work, it being impossible to take on men and train them sufficiently to fill temporary vacancies.

9. Fatalities and Accidents.—Short details of fires involving loss of life or serious accidents.—During the year under review 10 lives were lost at fires, three of which were believed to be cases of suicide.

On October 23, 1921, a firework explosion involved the loss of three lives. These men were trapped in a small room at the rear of a firework shop in which fireworks were made and from which there was no means of egress except through the shop.

The unsuitable nature of the premises was reported to the authorities concerned.

On searching the debris of the fire which occurred on February 28, 1922, the remains of 4 Indian women were found. It is supposed these women ran back into their premises to get their jewellery, and were trapped by the fire, as normally there was ample time for their escape.

The loss of life shows an increase of three over last year.

Nineteen persons were injured at fires, being a decrease of three compared with last year.

The increase in the number of accidents due to petrol igniting is noteworthy, and shews the habitual carelessness of many of the Indian motor drivers.

I am pleased to be al le to report that no loss of life, or very serious accident occurred to the staff of the Fire Brigade, which is noteworthy as so many buildings collapse with very little warning.

This is due to bad construction and use of improper materials. In the case of many jute warehouses the materials, such as steel standards, joists, bricks, etc., saved from previous fires are used again—often several times—and are unable to withstand the heat and strain generated by fire.

It is hoped that better supervision will be exercised over the construction of jute warehouses, etc., otherwise serious accidents must result.

10. Horses.—The number of horses has been reduced from 16 to 10.

11. Water-supply.—Again I regret to have to report that water supply has proved inadequate a very large number of times, and throughout the year has constantly caused serious apprehension.

With the exception of an additional electric pump at the Watgunge Pumping Station, little appears to have been done to remedy the serious state of affairs, which is becoming gradually worse as extra connections are being made and the mains are becoming choked, also the pumps and machinery are badly worn.

The installation of extra pumps at the Mullick Ghat Pumping Station is an urgent necessity, and unless steps are soon taken disastrous fires must result, especially as on occasions there have been complete breakdowns at the pumping stations.

It is anticipated that twenty-five 5" hydrants will be installed during the year, which will be beneficial, but this number is quite inadequate to cover the numerous serious fire risks.

The inadequate diameter of and silting up of the mains in many parts of the city are matters which urgently require rectification, which was clearly demonstrated at the large city fire on February 28, 1922, before referred to.

Regarding Howrah and Chitpur water supplies I regret to say nothing has been done, and the conditions are rapidly becoming worse as new warehouses are being erected, tanks filled up on sanitary grounds for the prevention of mosquitoes, etc.

In this connection I beg to repeat the remarks contained in the Annual Report of last year, as follows :—

"Regarding Howrah and Chitpur the dangerous state of affairs was specially pointed out and emphasized by the Commissioner of Police, who said in the covering letter to the Government of Bengal with the Annual Report of the Fire Brigade for the year ending 30th March 1920: 'The question of the water-supply in the districts of Howrah and Chitpur demands immediate attention as these areas comprise very dangerous fire risks. I regret to say that not only has nothing been done to improve the supply but conditions are even worse now as above noted, and the various areas referred to are becoming more congested with warehouses, etc. Repeated representations have been made to these municipalities, and the following is an extract from a letter received from Howrah :—

"With reference to your letter No. F. B. 288-299, dated the 25th February last, on the subject of water-supply for fire-extinguishing purposes, I have the honour to inform you that the scheme for effective water-supply in the locality appears to be too costly to permit this municipality to meet at the present moment, and mill owners who are directly interested in them have refused to pay any moiety of the cost of the scheme.'

"It is no uncommon occurrence for as many as 300 lengths of hose to be used at big fires owing to the distance the water is away from the risks. This is a source of considerable expense to the Fire Brigade and does not permit of efficient working. The comparative freedom from very serious fires appears to have created an atmosphere of false security. It is hoped that the question of water-supplies will receive the urgent attention its importance demands."

12. Fire Float.—I am glad to be able to report that delivery of the new Fire Float has been received from Messrs. Merryweather & Sons, Limited, and the vessel is now being assembled in Calcutta. It is anticipated it will be in commission by June 1922.

This machine has a capacity of 4,000 gallons per minute, and will be a great acquisition in dealing with fires in shipping and shore fires in proximity to the river, especially in Chitpur and Howrah, where the water-supply on shore is so very bad.

13. Street Fire Alarms, Telephones and Electrical Communications.—The means by which fire calls have been transmitted to the Fire Brigade during the year are given in Appendix II.

Appendix XVI gives the positions of street fire alarms in commission, together with calls, etc., received therefrom. Also a list of direct electrical connections is given.

There is an unsatisfactory increase in the number of false alarms received, both given maliciously and due to electrical defects.

I regret to state the fire alarm and telephone systems have not been satisfactory. Frequent faults have occurred and on occasions the complete system at the Fire Brigade headquarters has been out of order.

Numerous complaints have been received from telephone subscribers in connection with delay in obtaining connection with the Fire Brigade, and the same delay is often experienced by the Fire Brigade in communicating from fires to the Fire Brigade headquarters.

It is hoped that the defects will be fewer in future.

14. Inspection Department, Theatres, places of Public Amusement, etc.—The work of safeguarding the public in places of amusement has been carried on during the year.

Unfortunately there is still a great deal of overlapping of authority in this matter, which has a deterrent effect in enforcing the bye-laws.

The theatre bye-laws, particularly in respect to the maximum penalty, still require revision. This has been commented on for many years past.

The fines imposed by the Municipal Court for breaches of theatre bye-laws during the year is Rs. 2,290 as compared with Rs. 2,524 during the previous year and Rs. 11,315 in 1919-20.

Unfortunately the decrease in fines does not show a corresponding adherence to the bye-laws, which are often systematically disregarded, particularly in Indian theatres and temporary places of public amusement.

In connection with the Licensed Warehouse and Fire Brigade Act I of 1893 during the year under review 5,706 inspections of warehouses have been made. Four hundred and thirty-six applications for sanction and letters of complaint have been disposed of. Two hundred and fifty-four prosecutions have been instituted under section 14 of Act I of 1893, which resulted in 120 persons being fined, the fines aggregating in all to Rs. 1,948, 49 persons being warned and discharged, 31 acquitted and 54 cases filed and withdrawn.

15. Fire Brigade Workshop.—All repairs to fire appliances have been carried out in the Fire Brigade workshops and machines, as necessary, have been overhauled, painted, etc.

The present workshops are inadequate for the increased work involved, and it is hoped that adequate workshop accommodation will be provided at a reasonably early date.

16. General.—The Calcutta Fire Brigade protects the municipalities of Calcutta, Cossipore-Chitpur, Howrah, Maniktala and Garden Reach, and may attend fires outside the boundaries of these municipalities, but not exceeding a radius of 6 miles from the Central Fire Station, provided that appliances can be spared and on payment of a prescribed fee. Appendix XIX gives the Government order relating to this and form which should be signed prior to the Fire Brigade leaving the jurisdiction of the above municipalities.

The scale referred to has been enhanced during the year in accordance with the increased cost of provision and maintenance of fire appliances.

The area protected by the Calcutta Fire Brigade is just over 113 square miles, and the population included in the same is over two millions.

In December the Calcutta Fire Brigade was inspected by His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales.

17. Ambulance Department.—The Motor Ambulance Service has done much valuable work.

During the year under review the number of calls responded to is 8,962.

Three new motor ambulances have been purchased and put in commission, making a total of ten motor ambulances.

The staff of the Motor Ambulance Service consists of ten drivers and twenty attendants.

Appendix XXI gives the number of calls received every day and month throughout the year, and Appendix XXII gives the scale of charges for the use of the motor ambulances. The Ambulance Department is financially maintained by Government and the Corporation of Calcutta at the proportion of one-third and two-thirds respectively. Appendix XX gives a statement of receipts and expenditure incurred by the Motor Ambulance Service.

APPENDIX I.

Statement showing Receipts and Expenditure of the Fire Brigade during 1921-22.

The year opened with a balance of Rs. 1,05,101-15-10 and the receipts amounted to Rs. 4,22,047-0-9 and the total expenditure to Rs. 5,04,211-1-3, leaving a balance of Rs. 22,937-15-4 at the close of the year.

The receipts show a decrease of Rs. 1,622-15-3 over the estimate. The closing balance of Rs. 22,937-15-4 includes savings of (1) Rs. 6,500 for a telescopic fire escape, (2) Rs. 4,715 under canvas hose, and (3) Rs. 2,700 under rent and taxes.

(b) Book-keeping (Advanced).—Students who have passed the Elementary Book-keeping Examination, or who can give satisfactory proof of their knowledge of Elementary Book-keeping up to the requisite standard, are admitted. Text-Book—Complete Book-keeping, by Arthur Fieldhouse. The fee for the full session, July to April, is Rs. 32, payable in eight monthly instalments of Rs 4 each. Classes are held twice a week from 6 to 7 P.M.

(c) Shorthand (Theory).—Pitman's Shorthand is the system taught. Students having a sufficient knowledge of English are admitted at the beginning of the session in July. Students are also admitted in December, provided they have already a sufficient knowledge of Shorthand to enable them to appreciate the lectures in the session, December to April.

The minimum speed required to pass the examination is 80 words per minute. The class is held daily from 5 P.M.

The fee for the session, July to November, is Rs. 12, which may be paid in four monthly instalments of Rs. 3 each. The fee for the session, December to April, is Rs. 16, which may be paid in four monthly instalments of Rs. 4 each.

Students having a minimum speed of 80 words per minute are admitted in December, and the class practice is from 80 to 140 words per minute.

In the examination the tests are at four grades of speed, 80, 100, 120, 140 words per minute, and at higher speeds if candidates can write more rapidly. Classes are held daily from 6 P.M. Fees are the same as for (c).

Combination of the above subjects and reduction of fee.—If a student simultaneously takes up two or three of the subjects (a) to (e), a reduction of Re. 1 per instalment of each of the fees payable by him will be granted: for example, if a student is a member of both the Shorthand and the Elementary Book-keeping classes, he will have to pay instalments of Rs. 2 for each subject instead of Rs. 3 for the session, July to December.

(f), (g), (h), (i) and (j).—Classes are formed in these subjects if a sufficient number of candidates apply for admission. The fee for each subject is Rs. 3 for each series of ten lectures.

The fee is Rs. 144, payable in advance in four half-yearly instalments of Rs. 36 each in the case of ordinary students and Rs. 72 in two half-yearly instalments of Rs. 36 each in the case of those who are practising as Auditors and hold a provisional license granted by Government.

2. Examinations.—The examination in subjects (a) to (j) is held at the end of April, at the end of the year's course, under the control of the Government Commercial Institute Board, and successful candidates receive certificates signed by the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, and countersigned by the Secretary to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce. The examination fee for each subject is Rs. 5.

3. Attendance.—Strict regularity and punctuality of attendance are observed. Students must attend 75 per cent. of the lectures in order to appear at the examination. Classes are not held in the evening on Saturday.

4. Standard of Admission.—Candidates who have attended the lectures of the day course are eligible for admission. Others will be admitted, provided they appear qualified for the class or classes they seek to join.

5. Prizes.—Prizes of Rs. 50 each are offered by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce to the best candidates from the evening classes in subjects (b), (d), (f), (g), (h), (i) and (j). Three medals are offered by the Remington Typewriter Co. to the best three students of either the day or evening classes in the Typewriting examination.

GEOGRAPHY.

E. Marsden ... ... Geography for senior classes, Parts I and II.

The World with fuller treatment of India (Longmans' Geographical Series for India, Book II).

F. D. Unstead ... ... The Practical Geography, Parts I and II.
B. C. Wallis ... ... Macmillan's Geographical Exercise Book (India).

The following books are recommended for the use of teachers :—

Blandford ... ... The Rudiments of Physical Geography for the use of Indian Schools.
Frew ... ... A Regional Geography of the Indian Empire (Blackie & Son).
Wallis ... ... The Teaching of Geography (Cambridge University Press).
O'Malley ... ... Bengal, Bihar and Orissa, Sikkim (Macmillan & Co.).

The following book is recommended for the use of teachers in connection with the teaching of "Sand Modelling" in the lower classes of Schools :—

A. E. Frye ... . The Child and Nature.

Every school that intends to undertake instruction in Geography for the Matriculation Examination is required to possess the apparatus mentioned in the following list :—

I. (The total cost need not exceed Rs. 65.)

(1) A measuring tape.
(2) A magnetic compass.
(3) Squared paper and tracing paper.
(4) Clay, dry sand, paper pulp for modelling.
(5) A globe not less than 14 inches in diameter, with writing surface, and with line of latitude and longitude, and outlines only of the land masses marked upon it
(6) A map of the school locality on a scale of 4" or 6"—1 mile.
(7) A map of the district in which the school is situated on the scale 1"—1 mile.
(8) A coloured map of the province.
(9) A coloured political map of India.
(10) A physical map of India.
(11) A relief map of India.
(12) A map of the world on Mollweide's equal area projection and a map of Asia.

It is essential that the students should be provided with atlases, or with the necessary hand maps, and with a drawing instrument box. Maps for school work should not contain too much detail or be crowded with names.

II. The following additional equipment is recommended when it can be provided, but the lack of it is not to be considered as a bar to the recognition of the school in Geography :—

(1) A thermometer.
(2) A mercury barometer.
(3) A rain-guage.
(4) A small collection of typical rocks, in particular those of the province and India.
(5) A small museum of typical products.
(6) A good standard atlas.
(7) Geographical pictures.
(8) Magic-lantern and slides.

(1) The attention of teachers is requested to the raised maps of Bengal and Eastern Bengal and Assam made of paper pulp, prepared by Babu Kailaschandra Datta, Head Pandit, Habiganj Government Girls' School, Sylhet, and sold for Rs. 7 and Rs. 5, respectively.

(2) Globes of all kinds are made by George Philip and Son, London, W., and A. K. Johnston, London, and Messrs. Ruddiman Johnston, London. Small hand globes of German make can be obtained through the Indian School Supply Depôt for about a rupee each.

(3) The "Comparative" series of large wall maps of the continents published by George Philip and Son is good and up to date; so also are the Orographical wall maps published by Edward Stanford. Messrs. Ruddiman Johnston publish a series of smaller wall maps which include maps of India illustrating various distributions.

Messrs. Nelson's wall atlases are good. Mr. S. B. Chatterjee publishes District maps : also ordinary and relief maps of the province.

Babu L. M. Basu, the drawing master of the Dacca Collegiate School, has published good relief maps of Eastern Bengal and Assam and of India.

The Vidal-Lablche French wall maps on strong card-board, named on one side, and the same map without names on the reverse, published by Armond Collin, Paris, are good and cheap. They measure 46 inches by 39 inches and can be delivered in Calcutta for Rs. 4-14 each.

(4) The hand-maps, coloured to indicate relief, published by the Diagram Company, West Barnes Lane, New Malden, Surrey, at one penny each are the best of their kind.

The uncoloured half penny maps, showing river systems and a few towns, published by the same Company are excellent for class use.

The Autograph hand maps, with hill shading in brown, published by Messrs. Edward Stanford, London, at one penny each, are very good, and are larger than the Diagram Company's hand maps. The 15-inch map of the world on Mollweide's equal area projection is especially to be commended.

(5) Wall pictures of considerable artistic merit are published by Messrs. Edward Arnold of Leeds, Messrs. Hachette of Paris and Messrs. Holzel of Vienna, and Messrs. Longmans Green and Company. They cost, delivered in India, from two to three rupees each.

Map lantern slides and view slides especially prepared for Geography teaching are sold by the Diagram Company for two or three shillings each. Mr. Bartington Smith of Darjeeling also sells good picture slides of the Himalayas at Rs. 15 per dozen.

ELEMENTARY MECHANICS.

The following books are recommended :—

Sir Philip Magnus ... ... Elementary Mechanics (Longmans, 1903).
A. N. Sen ... ... Elementary Mechanics.

The following list of apparatus is prescribed as indicating the approximate requirements of a recognised High School seeking to teach Elementary Mechanics for the Matriculation Examination :

Plumb-line and level.
Simple lever (including brass slotted weight).
Roman steel yard.
Lecture apparatus for experiments on movements.
George's New Atwood's Machine.
Stop-watch.
Glazebrook's apparatus (to demonstrate movement of a body).

Wall Crane.
Becker's New Physical Balance.
Set of Gramme Weights (200 grams to 1 mgr.).
2 Composition-ivory Balls.

Note.—The above list is not exhaustive, and much of it might be replaced by similar forms that could probably be made far more cheaply by any clever mistry under proper supervision. In most cases, however, it will probably be found advantageous to buy such a set as indicated in the list, specially for demonstration purposes, and subsequently to develop simplified duplicates illustrating the same principles, which the boys should be given opportunity actually to experiment with on their own individual account or working in pairs.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE DEPARTMENT OF INDUSTRIES, BENGAL, FOR THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 1921.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE AND INDUSTRIES.

Industries.

CALCUTTA, THE 21ST NOVEMBER 1922.

RESOLUTION—No. 5619Ind.

Minister in charge : The Hon'ble Nawab Saiyid Nawab Ali Chaudhuri, Khan Bahadur, C.I.E.

READ—

The Report of the Department of Industries, Bengal, for the year ending 31st December 1921.

DR. D. B. MEEK, the Director of Industries, held charge of the department during the greater part of the year. During his absence on leave

Mr. A. T. Weston, the Deputy Director, was placed in charge of the department. Mr. Everett held the post of Inspector of Technical and Industrial Institutions. In December 1921 Dr. Rasik Lal Datta was appointed Industrial Chemist.

2. Owing to the absence of an expert staff little research work could be undertaken during the year, except at the Calcutta Research Tannery. The possibility of manufacturing glace-kid leather from local materials has been demonstrated, the leathers manufactured comparing favourably with similar goods imported from abroad. Successful experiments have been made in the manufacture of foot-ball leather, box-side leather and sole leather. Investigations in regard to the tanstuff resources of the Sundarbans forests have led to the discovery of an economical process for the utilization of goran (Ceriops Roxburgiana) bark, a full account of which has been published. Other tanstuffs of commercial importance have been discovered in the Sundarbans, and experiments with them are in progress.

Apart from research work technical advice has been freely given, ready-made treatment materials such as chrome liquors and fat-liquors have been supplied to inexperienced and unscientific tanners, and machine work such as finishing, polishing, etc., has been executed for small concerns. In view of the valuable work done at the tannery it has been decided to continue it for a further period of five years. An interesting feature is the keen interest taken by young men of the Bhadralok class in the manufacture of shoes and leather. Applications for apprenticeship were received in such numbers that many had to be refused for want of accommodation.

3. The information available regarding the prospects of the match industry in this presidency is at present meagre, and the matter has been under investigation by the Industries Department. Arrangements have been made for utilizing the services of Mr. A. P. Ghosh, a manufacturing expert, for a detailed survey and report on the technical and commercial aspects of the industry in Bengal. The investigation is expected to occupy a period of six months. Simultaneously the possibilities of the supply of suitable wood for matches from the Bengal forests will be examined.

4. During the year the Industries Department directed its attention to the preparation of schemes for the development and encouragement of silk, glass, dairy and cigar and cigarette making industries. Much valuable information has now been collected, and the schemes are under consideration.

The question of instituting a hydro-electric survey for developing water-power resources in Bengal came under consideration during the year. In accordance with the recommendations of the Industrial Commission, a joint Committee composed of officers of the Public Works Department and of the Department of Industries was appointed in November 1921 to conduct the survey, which will be confined, in the first instance, to the tract in Hill Tippera round Comilla and Chittagong.

For some time past there has been a keen demand for the demonstration of improved methods of spinning, weaving and dyeing, and of tanning in exhibitions and in local centres of these industries. These demonstrations were attended with considerable success and created much local interest. As it is impossible for the ordinary staff of the Serampore Weaving Institute and Calcutta Research Tannery to cope with the increasing calls on them for such demonstrations special establishments have been sanctioned for the purpose. The department also arranged for the attendance of a large number of weavers from the districts of Bengal at the All-India Handloom Weaving Exhibition at Patna, and they showed a keen appreciation of the advantages of improved methods. The recent revival of the handloom weaving industry afforded a great opportunity to the department for popularising the use of fly-shuttle looms and labour-saving appliances and spinning machines, and full advantage was taken of it. Facilities were also afforded for the formation of co-operative societies among weavers and the establishment of yarn banks and cloth depôts.

Next to weaving, the conch-shell industry is the most important industry in Dacca. Large quantities of conch-shells are imported annually into the town from Ceylon, Southern and Western India. Owing to the high prices charged by the few middlemen who imported the shells the condition of the workers was gradually deteriorating. To remedy this state of things, a co-operative society has been formed among the conch-shell workers, and the society, aided by a guarantee from Government against loss up to a maximum of Rs. 10,000, has successfully negotiated a contract with the Fisheries Department, Madras, for the purchase of shells direct. The Minister in charge will watch with interest the results achieved by the society in its venture.

5. The development of technical and industrial education continued to receive the earnest attention of the Minister and the Department of Industries. In pursuance of the schemes for the training of apprentices in railway and other workshops in the neighbourhood of Calcutta, the Board of Control for Apprenticeship Training and the governing body of the Calcutta Technical School were appointed during the year under review. The Kanchrapara Technical School scheme has since received the approval of the Government of India in the Railway Department who have authorised the co-operation of the Eastern Bengal Railway authorities with this Government in the matter. Steps have now been taken for giving full effect to the scheme in collaboration with the committee of management of the school and for the improvement of teaching work by the appointment of the full staff. Pending the transfer of the Locomotive Superintendent's office at Kanchrapara which has been selected for the location of the school, the classes are being held in certain rooms of the new hostel building for Indian apprentices. It is hoped that it will be possible to complete the scheme in the near future with the co-operation of the railway authorities. Owing to the want of funds the building operations in connection with the Technical School in Calcutta had to be suspended. The Legislative Council has, however, recently voted a grant of Rs. 65,000 to enable the Public Works Department to proceed with the work during the current year. Progress was made with the scheme for the improvement of mining education in the coal-fields. Some of the buildings required for lecture-halls and quarters for the teaching staff at Raniganj and Sitarampore are already under construction. Financial considerations have necessitated the temporary suspension of arrangements for recruiting the new staff required. Meanwhile, however, the present arrangement under which lectures are delivered by part-time lecturers will continue. The Government Weaving Institute at Serampore and the district and peripatetic weaving schools continued to do useful work. The great popularity of the Serampore Institute is evident from the large number of applications for admission received at the last session. Accommodation is available only for 75 students in the higher classes and for about 60 in the artizan classes, while the total number of applications from qualified candidates amounted to about 2,000. Towards the end of the year under review it was decided to retain the Institute permanently at Serampore. A building project for the Institute which is at present located in hired buildings is now under consideration. Steps were taken after the close of the year for the extension of the peripatetic demonstration of weaving, and arrangements have been elected at a comparatively small cost by which the peripatetic schools will be in a position to admit at one time double the number of pupils that they can teach at present. The system of granting loans to ex-students o weaving schools for the purchase of machinery has been very popular and has enabled many of the students to make a successful start in the weaving industry. Sanction has been received to the recruitment in India of a qualified Principal for the Government Commercial Institute in Calcutta, and it is hoped that the post will be filled up in the near future. As soon as this has been done the Principal will be asked to prepare a scheme for the expansion and improvement of the Institute.

During the year schemes for the establishment of industrial, commercial and junior technical schools at suitable centres throughout the province were under preparation. These schemes have matured since the close of the year, and it is proposed to start at once two schools of each of these types.

6. The Minister in charge is pleased to note that in spite of the fact that much of its work lies in a sphere which has not hitherto been regarded as coming within the activities of Government, and must therefore be largely of an experimental nature, the department is already able to show a creditable record of usefulness. The thanks of the Minister are due to Dr. D. B. Meek and Mr. Weston for their successful administration of the department during the year under review. He also desires to record his appreciation of the valuable assistance which the members of the Advisory Board of Industries and of the other Boards and Committees mentioned in the report have rendered to the department.

By order of the Government of Bengal

(Ministry of Agriculture and Industries),

J. T. DONOVAN,
Secretary to the Government of Bengal (offg.).

THE following tables are intended to show the trade by all routes, i.e., by rail, river, canal, road and sea, of the Calcutta block* in certain selected articles during the six months, April to September, 1922, as compared with the corresponding period of 1921 and 1920. The statistics have been compiled from returns furnished by the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, Railway Audit Offices, Steamer Companies, the Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta, the Collectors of the 24-Parganas and Howrah, and the Assistant Engineer, Calcutta Canals.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE SEPARATION OF JUDICIAL AND EXECUTIVE FUNCTIONS.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

APPOINTMENT DEPARTMENT.

CALCUTTA, THE 19TH AUGUST 1921.

RESOLUTION—No. 6287 A.

THE Governor in Council has had under consideration the action to be taken on the following resolution which was carried at the meeting of the Bengal Legislative Council held on the 5th April 1921 :—

"This Council recommends to the Government that early steps be taken for the total separation of the judicial from the executive functions in the administration of this Presidency."

The Local Government adhere to the view expressed on their behalf in Council that, as a preliminary step, it is desirable that a committee should be formed to elaborate a practical working scheme for the separation of executive and judicial functions in the administration of Bengal and to report on the cost thereof. Upon receipt of their report it will be possible to decide upon a line of future action with a more definite appreciation of what is actually involved than is at present practicable. The committee which the Governor in Council has decided to appoint for the purpose will be composed as follows :—

The Hon'ble Mr. Justice W. E. Greaves, Bar.-at-Law, President.
Mr. F. C. French, C.S.I., I.C.S.
Sir Ashutosh Chaudhuri, Kt., M.L.C.
Dr. A. Suhrawardy, M.L.C.
Raja Manmatha Nath Rai Chaudhuri of Santosh, M.L.C.
Mr. G. Morgan, M.L.C.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the resolution be forwarded to the President and each member of the committee.

ORDERED also that the resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Governor in Council,

J. DONALD.
Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal (offg.).

Report of the Committee appointed to elaborate a practical working scheme for the separation of executive and judicial functions in the administration of Bengal and to report on the cost thereof.

1. Reference.—The reference to the Committee was "to elaborate a practical working scheme for the separation of executive and judicial functions in the administration of Bengal and to report on the cost thereof." The advisability or otherwise of the separation accordingly does not fall within the scope of the reference, and the Committee have taken no evidence on this question.

The controversy with regard to the separation of functions began in the year 1853, or earlier, and the letters and papers with regard thereto are collected in two volumes published by the Bengal Secretariat Press in 1908 and prepared in the office of the Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal. The Committee have read and considered those volumes, which are chiefly useful, for their purpose, as showing where judicial and executive functions overlap, and the difficulties which are said to arise from the overlapping.

2. Previous schemes.—From time to time schemes for separation have been put forward, and the Committee have considered four of these, namely—

(a) the scheme of Mr. Romesh Chunder Dutt, C.I.E., put forward in August 1893, which will be found at pages 512-516 of Volume II of the volumes referred to in the last paragraph ;

(b) the scheme of Mr. C. W. Bolton, put forward in 1900, which will be found at pages 607-614 of the aforesaid Volume II ;

(c) the scheme of Sir Harvey Adamson, put forward in 1908, which will be found at the end of the Hon'ble Mr. P. C. Mitter's book entitled "The question of judicial and executive separation and the better training of judicial officers," published in 1913 in Calcutta by the Bee Press ;

(d) the scheme of the Hon'ble Mr. P. C. Mitter, put forward in 1913, which will be found at pages 15-23 of Mr. Mitter's book above referred to, the details of the scheme being set forth in Appendices A and C of that book and the estimated cost in Appendix B.

Mr. Romesh Chunder Dutt was Commissioner of the Orissa Division and at one time District Magistrate of Midnapore, and he was also at one time a Subdivisional Officer. Mr. Bolton, after the usual service in the districts in the executive branch, was Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal between 1896 and 1900 and then became member of the Board of Revenue.

Sir Harvey Adamson was Home Member of the Government of India in 1908 and the Hon'ble Mr. P. C. Mitter, now one of the Ministers under the reform scheme, is a vakil who has had a large practice in the High Court (chiefly civil) and has always been a student of public questions.

3. Mr. Romesh Chunder Dutt's scheme.—According to Mr. Dutt's scheme the District Magistrate, who was to be called the District Officer, was to be employed purely on executive and revenue work, and was to be relieved of his judicial duties, which were to be transferred to the District Judge. The staff employed under the District Magistrate in purely revenue and executive work were to remain under him, whilst the staff employed under the District Magistrate in purely judicial work were to be under the control of the District Judge, and a division of the existing staff under the District Magistrate was to be made to carry this into effect. He proposed that Assistant Magistrates should be employed purely on revenue, executive and police work under the District Officer, and that, on promotion to be Joint Magistrates, they should be employed purely on judicial work and be subordinate to the District Judge.

Mr. Dutt estimated that, in the conditions which existed in 1893, the District Judge could cope with the additional work thrown on him with the assistance of the Joint Magistrate, who, when necessary, was to be vested with the powers of an Assistant Sessions Judge and empowered to hear petty appeals. Where there was no Joint Magistrate, he thought that the District Judge could obtain sufficient assistance from a senior and selected Deputy Magistrate who, if necessary, could be empowered to hear petty appeals. In dealing with subdivisions he estimated that the judicial work of a subdivision could be done by the Subdivisional Officer, who would become an entirely judicial officer under the control of the District Judge, whilst a Sub-Deputy Collector could do all the revenue and administrative work of the subdivision. This recommendation he subsequently modified to this extent, that he considered that there should be a Deputy Collector, and not a Sub-Deputy Collector, to carry out the revenue and administrative work of a subdivision. We cannot find that Mr. Dutt's scheme took into account the necessary occasional absences from the headquarters of the subdivision of the officer in charge of revenue and administrative work, which would create difficulties with regard to the opening of the sub-treasury. We have not been able to find any direct expression of his views with regard to the person or persons to exercise the powers under the preventive sections of the Criminal Procedure Code.

4. Mr. Bolton's scheme.—Mr. Bolton's scheme recommends the appointment in each district of a District Judge to exercise the powers then vested in an Assistant Sessions Judge under the Criminal Procedure Code, with the exclusive power of hearing appeals from magistrates of all grades and applications for revision of their decisions. He suggests that this officer should distribute all cases as they arise among the subordinate magistrates, or that he should assign this duty and the power of receiving and distributing complaints to one of those magistrates.

He recommends the appointment of a Divisional Judge in every division, and that he should exercise the powers of a District and Sessions Judge under the Codes of Criminal and Civil Procedure throughout the division, and that he should control the District Judge and try all sessions cases which the District Judge was not competent to try, and that he should have the power to transfer cases from one court to another.

He further recommends that at the headquarters of each district there should be one or more subordinate, Joint, Assistant or Deputy Magistrates, whose exclusive duties should be to try criminal cases triable by a magistrate, the appointment to be ordinarily for a period of five years and the power of supervision and control of such magistrates to be vested exclusively in the District Judge, the District Officer ceasing to exercise these or any judicial or appellate powers.

Mr. Bolton would retain with the District Officer and his subordinates the preventive powers of the Criminal Procedure Code, subject to an appeal to or revision by the Commissioner of the Division.

With regard to subdivisions, Mr. Bolton would in large subdivisions have two officers, a Deputy Magistrate for judicial work with, where necessary, charge of the sub-treasury, and a Deputy Collector for revenue and executive work. In the smaller subdivisions he would allow, for the time being, the combination of functions to continue, the Subdivisional Officer being subordinate to the District Judge for judicial purposes and to the District Officer for revenue and executive purposes. His scheme further provides for the inspection of magistrates and Subdivisional Officers by the District Judge.

Mr. Bolton estimates the cost of his scheme, exclusive of buildings, at 5 lakhs a year. The details of the cost of the scheme are to be found at page 614 of Volume II of the volumes referred to in paragraph 1 of this report.

5. Sir Harvey Adamson's scheme.—Sir Harvey Adamson outlines his scheme as follows :—

He would separate judicial and executive functions entirely. He would allow all subordinate civil service officers and, if possible, the officers of the executive branch, after a fixed number of years, to make a final choice between judicial and executive, but, during the period antecedent to final choice, he would gazette all such officers to Commissioners' divisions, to be deputed to executive or judicial duties by orders of the Commissioner, a change from one duty to the other during this period to be made at intervals of not less than two years. He would consult High Courts freely on the transfer and promotion of all officers permanently allotted to the judicial branch of the service. At the headquarters of each district he would station a District Officer and a senior magistrate, the former to exercise revenue functions, to control the police, to exercise the preventive sections of the Criminal Procedure Code, and to discharge all miscellaneous executive duties, the latter (either a member of the Indian Civil Service or a Deputy Magistrate of experience) to be the head of the magistracy and try important criminal cases, hear appeals from second and third class magistrates, perform criminal revision work and inspect magistrates' courts. If these duties do not fully occupy his time, he would be appointed Additional District Judge and be employed in civil work or in inspecting civil courts or as an Assistant Sessions Judge.

Sir Harvey Adamson would depute some of the officers at the headquarters of a district to executive and the remainder to judicial work ; he would re-arrange subdivisional boundaries and divide each district into judicial subdivisions and executive sub-districts not necessarily co-terminous.

As a result of the scheme he states that a district would be divided into (a) executive and (b) judicial, each being subdivided into headquarters and sub-districts or subdivisions, the executive staff being under the District Officer and consisting of Indian Civilians, Deputy Collectors and Sub-Deputy Collectors at headquarters, with either an Indian Civilian or a Deputy Collector in each subdivision. Similarly, the judicial staff would be under the senior magistrate, consisting, at headquarters, of Indian Civilians, Deputy Magistrates and Sub-Deputy Magistrates, and in subdivisions of an Indian Civilian or a Deputy Magistrate.

Under this scheme the District Officer would be empowered as a District Magistrate and other executive officers as first class magistrates to perform the preventive functions under the Criminal Procedure Code, Chapter VIII (omitting section 106) to Chapter XII.

6. The Hon'ble Mr. P. C. Mitter's scheme.—The broad features of Mr. Mitter's scheme are as follows : He would place all officers who exercise any judicial powers (civil or criminal) under the District Judge, who would have the supervision of the judicial work of a district, both civil and criminal. He would relieve the present District Magistrate of his magisterial duties, calling him the District Officer. He would, where necessary in a district, appoint an Additional District and Sessions Judge and one or two Civil Judges to exercise the powers of a Subordinate Judge, giving them the criminal powers of an Assistant Sessions Judge and the powers now exercised by the District Magistrate under Chapters VIII to XII of the Criminal Procedure Code. He thinks that, in districts where the work is not very heavy, no additional District and Sessions Judge will be needed, but only one additional Judge to exercise the powers of a Subordinate Judge, Assistant Sessions Judge and the judicial powers of the District Magistrate under the Criminal Procedure Code. Mr. Mitter further proposes that the District Judges and all judicial officers under them should be placed under the High Court in all matters, namely, pay, promotion, leave, suspension, punishment, etc., and that they should have no concern with the District Officer, Commissioner or Local Government, and he suggests that the Judicial Department of the Local Government should be placed under the High Court.

He suggests further the division of the judicial service into two branches, namely, imperial for the whole of India and provincial for each province, discussing the recruitment, training, pay, etc., of the two branches. This question, however, seems to concern the country as a whole, and accordingly to be outside the scope of the reference to us, and we think it need not be further pursued by this Committee.

Mr. Mitter has elaborated in considerable detail how the changes proposed by him would affect the personnel in the present twenty-seven districts into which Bengal is divided. He states the staff employed in or about the year 1913 in judicial work both civil and criminal and in revenue and administrative work, and in parallel columns indicates the staff in his opinion necessary when the separation has been carried out. In so doing he has not separated the staff required in his opinion at the sadar station and in the subdivisions, which makes it difficult to test his figures with the staff estimated by the District Magistrates whom we have examined, to be necessary, if separation were effected. Mr. Mitter has worked out an estimate of the cost of his proposals in each district and estimates that there would be a total yearly saving of Rs. 1,66,800. The Chittagong Hill Tracts, Darjeeling and Jalpaiguri are not included in the scheme. Mr. Mitter has not taken into account the cost of any additional buildings which separation would necessitate. Possibly under his scheme he thinks no additional buildings would be necessary. Again he has not taken into account any increase of clerical and other staff which separation would necessitate, but again possibly under his scheme he thinks that no such increase would be necessary. Mr. Mitter unfortunately felt himself precluded by his present position from giving evidence before us, so that we were unable to avail ourselves of his assistance on these points. The Committee, however, desire to acknowledge the assistance which they have gained by a perusal of his book, copies of which he very kindly supplied to the members of the Committee.

7. The present administration of criminal justice.—Before formulating any scheme ourselves it will be convenient to state briefly, but not exhaustively, the present system prevalent in the province, outside Calcutta, for the administration of civil and criminal justice.

The chief criminal judicial officer in the district is a District and Sessions Judge who presides at the trial of cases committed to Sessions, and also hears appeals from magistrates with first class powers. He is assisted in this work, where necessary, by an Additional District and Sessions Judge. District and Sessions Judges and Additional District and Sessions Judges are engaged in purely judicial work and take no part in the administration of the district, and have no executive functions generally speaking. They are under the control and supervision of the High Court, but are posted to districts by the Local Government, subject to the approval of the High Court.

The next criminal judicial officer is the Magistrate and Collector, who is a magistrate with first class powers (described in the Criminal Procedure Code as the District Magistrate); he can, and very occasionally does, hear criminal cases of special importance, but his judicial functions mainly consist in hearing appeals from magistrates with second and third class powers, and his most important work is the inspection and supervision of the criminal courts of the district, other than the courts of the District and Sessions Judge and Additional District and Sessions Judge. In some districts he is assisted by an Additional District Magistrate and Collector, who usually exercises the judicial and inspectional and supervisional functions of the District Magistrate and Collector. The District Magistrate and Collector, in addition to his judicial functions, exercises important administrative, revenue and executive functions, and it is he who is responsible for the peace and order of the district, and he exercises general control and direction over the police in criminal cases. The Additional District Magistrate and Collector, in districts where there is such an officer, also exercises important administrative, executive and revenue functions. The other criminal work of the district is carried out by Assistant Magistrates Assistant Collectors, Deputy Magistrates Deputy Collectors and Sub-Deputy Magistrates Sub-Deputy Collectors. These officers have, as the case may be, the powers of magistrates of the first, second or third class.

In some cases their duties are purely judicial, in others purely administrative and executive, including those connected with revenue, whilst some exercise judicial, administrative and executive and revenue functions. In the subdivisions of each district there is a Subdivisional Officer, who is either an Indian Civil Service officer or a Deputy Magistrate with the powers of a first class magistrate (he is described in the Criminal Procedure Code as the Subdivisional Magistrate); upon him falls the duty of inspecting the criminal courts of the subdivision, which however are also from time to time inspected by the District Magistrate ; the Subdivisional Officer also exercises almost all the powers under the preventive sections of the Criminal Procedure Code.

The Deputy Magistrates Deputy Collectors, Assistant Magistrates Assistant Collectors, Sub-Deputy Magistrates Sub-Deputy Collectors and Subdivisional Officers are under the control and supervision of the District Magistrate and Collector and the Divisional Commissioner. Their promotion and posting is controlled by the Local Government.

8. Civil Work.—The civil work of the province, outside Calcutta, is performed by the District and Sessions Judge, by one or more Additional District and Sessions Judges, where they exist, by Sub-Judges and by Munsifs. These are purely judicial officers, and they perform no administrative or executive functions generally speaking. They are under the control and supervision of the High Court. It has not been thought necessary to refer to the appellate jurisdiction exercised by the High Court in civil and criminal cases.

9. Where the overlapping of judicial and executive functions occurs.—It will be clear from what has been stated in the last two paragraphs that the overlapping of judicial and executive functions occurs in the case of the District Magistrate and Collector, the Additional District Magistrate and Collector (in districts where there is such an officer), Assistant Magistrates Assistant Collectors (who are Indian Civilians), Deputy Magistrates Deputy Collectors and Sub-Deputy Magistrates Sub-Deputy Collectors, except, as regards these latter, in cases where they are employed in purely judicial or in purely administrative and executive functions, as the case may be.

10. Evidence.—The Committee have held twenty-two sittings and have examined twenty-one witnesses, whose evidence will be found in Appendix A to this report.

Of the witnesses examined, one was a Commissioner of a Division, nine were District Magistrates, one was an Additional District Magistrate, two were District Judges, and three were Subdivisional Officers.

Of the other witnesses examined, two were barristers (one of whom had had experience as a Deputy Magistrate and also as a Presidency Magistrate), two were pleaders from the mufassil, and one was an Indian Civilian who had had experience as a Subdivisional Officer, as a District Magistrate and as an Additional District and Sessions Judge.

The Committee further sent round to all District Magistrates who were not examined orally, a questionnaire, which will be found, together with the replies, in Appendix B. They also sent round to the District Judges another questionnaire, which will also be found, together with the replies, in Appendix C.

The Committee also invited an expression of their views from the following associations :—

The Bengal Chamber of Commerce.
The Bengal Landholders' Association.
The Indian Muslim Association.
The Calcutta Trades Association.
The European Association.
The British Indian Association.
The National Liberal League.
The Indian Association.
The Central National Muhammadan Association.
The Marwari Association.
The Bengal National Chamber of Commerce.
The Bengal Presidency Muslim League.
The British Indian Peoples' Association.

The replies of those associations who expressed their views will be found in Appendix D.

11. We see no practical difficulty in effecting a separation of judicial and executive functions, but we think that in framing any scheme it is desirable—

(1) that the separation should be as complete as possible,

(2) that it should disturb existing conditions as little as possible, and

(3) that, so far as is consistent with efficiency, any increase of cost should be minimised as far as possible.

12. Scheme of separation.—We accordingly recommend that, in order to carry out the separation of such functions in this province, the following scheme be adopted :—

(a) The hearing of appeals from magistrates with second and third class powers should in future take place not before the District Officer or his subordinates, but before the District and Sessions Judge or some purely judicial officer empowered in that behalf.

(b) The inspection of criminal courts should be made in future not by the District Officer or his subordinates, but by the District and Sessions Judge or by some purely judicial officer empowered in that behalf, and the responsibility for the efficient working of all the criminal courts in the district and the due despatch of criminal business should rest in future not with the District Officer but with the District and Sessions Judge. We desire to emphasise the necessity of the inspection and supervision of the work of the criminal courts being ordinarily carried out by the District and Sessions Judge himself. Unless this is done, we think that there is a grave risk that the criminal work of the districts may deteriorate.

(c) The present staff of Deputy Magistrates Deputy Collectors and of Sub-Deputy Magistrates Sub-Deputy Collectors should be divided into two branches, and one should be employed in purely judicial work and the other in purely administrative, executive and revenue work. The control and supervision, including questions of promotion and transfer, of those engaged in purely judicial work should lie exclusively with the judicial authorities and the control and supervision of those engaged in purely administrative work should remain with the District Officer. If and when the scheme is adopted, regard should be had, where possible, to the wishes of the various members of the staff as to the branch to which they should be assigned. After the division is effected, we think that there should be no change for the present in the location of the magisterial staff, that is to say, that they should continue, where possible, to occupy their existing courts and rooms whether at the sadar or the subdivision. We see no practical difficulty in the District and Sessions Judge, or whoever supervises and inspects their work, carrying out these duties at the sadar and subdivisional offices. To remove these officers at once to the Judge's court house would greatly increase the cost of any scheme ; but, where additional accommodation is necessitated by the scheme, it should be provided at the Judge's court house rather than at the District Officer's, and ultimately all judicial officers, civil and criminal, at headquarters should be located in the Judge's court house.

(d) In future recruitment for the Bengal Civil Service and the Subordinate Civil Service should be made direct to the judicial branch and direct to the administrative, executive and revenue branch, change from one branch to the other not being permitted. Some members of the Committee, however, think that change from one branch to the other should be permitted for a period of five or six years, as thereby the wider experience thus gained would be beneficial to both branches.

(e) As regards future members of the Indian Civil Service posted to Bengal, we think that their selection of judicial or executive should be finally made at the expiration of six years' service, those first six years being treated as training and the officer being deputed for substantial periods to one branch or the other. We are aware that proposals have been made from time to time with regard to the improvement of the judicial training of members of the Indian Civil Service, but we do not think that it is within the scope of the reference to this Committee to consider and come to a conclusion upon this question. Some members of the Committee, however, think that in future recruitment for the Indian Civil Service should be made direct for the judicial branch and direct for the revenue, administrative and executive branch.

(f) The High Court should exercise the same control and supervision over the magisterial staff as they now exercise over the civil staff.

13. The preventive sections of the Criminal Procedure Code.—An important question arises which it will be convenient to deal with in a separate paragraph from the other details of the scheme. This question concerns the preventive sections of the Criminal Procedure Code which are contained in Chapters VIII to XII inclusive of that code. Under the present system the powers under these sections are vested in the District Magistrate, the Subdivisional Officer and magistrates with first class powers empowered in that behalf. In Mr. Mitter's scheme these powers were to be taken away from the District Magistrate and from the magistrates under him and transferred to the District and Sessions Judge and to the judicial officers under him; in Mr. Bolton's scheme and in Sir Harvey Adamson's scheme these powers were to be retained by the District Officer and by officers under him. The Committee have heard a considerable amount of evidence on the question of the retention or otherwise by the District Officer and those under him of the present powers given them by the preventive sections. As already stated, they have examined the District Officers of nine districts orally. All these officers consider that the powers under these sections should remain as at present with the District Officer and those under him; three of them, however, see no objection to the trial of all cases under these sections being transferred to the District and Sessions Judge or those under him, provided there is no delay. As regards the views of the remainder, three see no objection to trials under section 107 taking place before a judicial officer, four see no objection to trials under section 110 taking place before a judicial officer, provided the trial be held locally, five would not object to motions against conditional orders passed under section 133 being heard by a judicial officer, and five would not object to section 145 proceedings taking place before a judicial officer. The two District and Sessions Judges whom we examined both thought that the power of initiating or drawing up proceedings under these sections should remain as at present, but that the hearing should take place before a judicial officer. The Divisional Commissioner whom we examined thought that all cases under these sections should be tried by a judicial officer, whilst the Additional District Magistrate whom we examined would retain as at present all powers under these sections, except that he would allow cases under sections 109, 110 and 145 to be tried by a judicial officer. Two of the three Subdivisional Officers would retain the powers as at present, whilst the other would retain the powers under sections 133, 144 and 145 for urgent cases, letting the other powers be exercised by a judicial officer. Of the two barristers whom we examined, one of whom, as stated, is an ex-Deputy Magistrate with experience in the subdivisions, one would give all the powers to the District and Sessions Judge and the other would have the hearing of all proceedings before a judicial officer.

Of the two pleaders examined, both would leave the initiation of proceedings with the District and Subdivisional Officers, subsequent proceedings to take place before a judicial officer. One would, however, leave the District and Subdivisional Officers their powers under section 144 unimpaired, and saw no objection to their passing emergency orders under the other sections. The other saw no objection to the District and Subdivisional Officers passing orders under sections 133 and 144, provided that such orders could be subsequently challenged in courts of law. This witness was opposed to trials of section 110 cases taking place locally, thinking that the accused was thereby prejudiced in obtaining legal assistance.

Of the seventeen District Magistrates whom we did not examine orally but who replied to the questionnaire, all were in favour of the District Officer and those at present exercising powers under these sections retaining the power to initiate proceedings ; twelve of them, however, saw no objection to the trial of proceedings under these sections being before a judicial officer.

Of the associations whose opinions we invited, one only dealt with this question, expressing the opinion that the power of initiation should remain as at present in urgent cases, but that proceedings under sections 107, 108, 110, 133, 144 and 145 should take place before a judicial officer.

In some of the oral evidence which we have taken and in some of the replies which we have received, some stress has been laid upon the fact that the powers under these sections are in the nature of executive acts, and that the proceedings are only quasi-judicial. As the District and Subdivisional Officers will, under the scheme submitted, still remain liable for the peace and order of the districts, it would manifestly be impossible to deprive them of these powers entirely, at the same time it seems to us impossible to say that the proceedings thereunder are not, at any rate at some stages, judicial proceedings. Consequently, if things remained as at present, executive officers would still be exercising some judicial functions and the separation of functions would not be complete. At the same time it is impossible always to be strictly logical and, if we were satisfied that the peace and order of the district depended on things remaining as at present as regards the preventive sections, we should not hesitate so to recommend, even if thereby some executive and judicial functions overlapped.

After considering the evidence, we recommend that the powers of the District Officer and those under him under the preventive sections shall be modified in the following manner :—

(1) In ordinary cases under sections 107, 108, 109 and 110, when the District Officer requires a person to show cause, the proceedings shall be sent for trial before a judicial officer, but in cases of emergency which arise under these sections and when immediate action is necessary, it shall be open to the District Officer and those empowered to act under these sections themselves to make orders under the sections, but, where they make such orders, they shall state their reasons in writing and an appeal against the orders shall lie to the District and Sessions Judge. The Committee are agreed that all cases under section 110 should be tried locally as at present and that opportunity for obtaining legal assistance should be freely given.

(2) Section 137 shall be modified so as to provide that, if a person bound down conditionally under section 133 appears to show cause, the proceedings shall be heard before a judicial officer, but, if the order is made absolute, the District Officer shall be the person to enforce it under section 140 and the following sections.

(3) The hearing of proceedings under sections 145 and 147 shall be before a judicial officer, initiation of proceedings and the power to make provisional orders under the last proviso of section 145(4) remaining as at present with the District Officer and those under him.

(4) Any appeal under section 406 of the Criminal Procedure Code shall go to the District and Sessions Judge.

If these suggestions are adopted, it will be necessary, in order to secure speedy disposal of cases, that the District Officer should forward the proceedings to the District and Sessions Judge with a request that they should be speedily disposed of, and that a High Court order should require the District and Sessions Judge to give effect to the request and secure the speedy disposal of all matters thus marked as urgent.

14. Amendment of the Criminal Procedure Code.—The adoption of the proposals outlined in the last two paragraphs will necessitate extensive amendments of the Criminal Procedure Code and of other Acts. Such amendments must be consequential on any scheme, and we have not thought it necessary in this report to indicate the amendments which will be necessary. This will be a matter for the Legislative Department in the event of this or any other scheme being adopted.

15. Cost.—It remains for us to consider whether the carrying out of the proposals for separation outlined in paragraph 12 will involve any and if so what additional cost. It will be convenient to consider this under three main heads as follows: Firstly, whether the transfer of the appellate functions of the District Magistrate and of his revisional functions and of the inspection of criminal courts to the District and Sessions Judge or to those under him will involve any additional staff or the provision of any additional accommodation. Secondly, whether the separation of functions at the headquarters of the district will involve the provision of additional staff and additional accommodation. Thirdly, whether the like separation in the subdivisions will involve any similar additions.

We propose to state here the method adopted by the Committee in calculating the cost of any additional officers and staff and of buildings which the scheme outlined above in their opinion necessitates, the same method being adopted where a saving is shown. The Committee upon enquiry were not able to obtain an average figure based on the grade pay of the additional officers and staff required, and they have accordingly adopted for the basis of their calculations the following figures, which must be taken as approximate only.

Where an extra officer of the rank of District and Sessions Judge is required, they have calculated the pay of such an officer at Rs. 1,750 a month, of a District Magistrate and Collector at Rs. 1,500, of a Sub-Judge at Rs. 1,000, of a Deputy Magistrate and of a Deputy Collector at Rs. 500, of a Sub-Deputy Magistrate and of a Sub-Deputy Collector at Rs. 250 and of a peon at Rs 15. Some members of the Committee think that a saving might be effected by appointing Subordinate Judges or senior Deputy Magistrates to fill the superior posts.

Where in subdivisions or at headquarters additional accommodation is necessitated, they have based their calculations on a rough estimate furnished by the Public Works Department, who estimate that the provision of an additional court room or of an additional room added to existing buildings, measuring 25 feet by 18 feet, would cost approximately Rs. 3,500. In a few cases, where additional accommodation is required at headquarters, a sum in excess of this estimate has been allowed.

16. The hearing of appeals and inspection.—Appeals from second and third class magistrates are, as already stated, heard at the present time by the District Magistrate or by the Additional District Magistrate, where there is one, or by a senior Deputy Magistrate at headquarters. Inspection is carried out by the District Magistrate or by the Additional District Magistrate, where there is one, and criminal motions, etc., are similarly dealt with. We have ascertained from the District Magistrates the time now occupied in these duties, and the result of our enquiries is set out below.

Bakarganj.—The greater part of the time of the Additional District Magistrate is occupied in criminal work.

Bankura.—Appeals occupy four to five hours weekly; inspection two weeks a year.

Birbhum.—One quarter of time occupied.

Bogra.—One-third of time occupied.

Burdwan.—One quarter of time occupied.

Chittagong.—One-fifth, if no Additional District Magistrate.

Dacca.—Six hours a day, that is, three-fourths of the time of the Additional District Magistrate.

Dinajpur.—One-third of time occupied.

Faridpur.—Two-fifths of time occupied, actual court work occupying one-eighth of the time, as petty appeals are heard by a Deputy Magistrate.

Howrah.—Rather less than one-fourth of time occupied.

Hooghly.—One-third of time occupied.

Jessore.—Two-sevenths of time occupied in criminal work, including the hearing of appeals.

Jalpaiguri.—One quarter of time occupied.

Khulna.—One-fifth of time occupied.

Malda.—Three hours a day occupied.

Midnapore.—One half of the time of the Additional District Magistrate is occupied in normal times. The District Magistrate occupies three weeks a year in inspecting the outlying subdivisions for both revenue and criminal purposes.

Murshidabad.—Criminal appeals occupy four hours a week, other criminal work one quarter of an hour daily ; inspection occupies five days a year.

Mymensingh.—One half of the time of the Additional District Magistrate is occupied in criminal appeals and motions and the District Magistrate occupies three days a year in inspecting each of the outlying subdivisions and he hears some three or four references a year against acquittals.

Nadia.—One hour a day, appeals being heard by a Deputy Magistrate.

Noakhali.—One-third of time occupied in criminal work, including the hearing of appeals.

Pabna.—Three hours a day.

Rajshahi.—Criminal appeals occupy one hour a day ; inspection six or eight days a year.

Rangpur.—Three-twentieths of time occupied. A senior Deputy Magistrate hears appeals.

Tippera.—One-third of time occupied and an additional half hour a day in general supervision.

24-Parganas.—Four-fifths of the time of the Additional District Magistrate is occupied and the District Magistrate hears exceptional cases and exceptional appeals.

Darjeeling and the Chittagong Hill Tracts are not included in this table.

We have submitted the results of the enquiries embodied in the above table to the District and Sessions Judges of the different districts, in order to ascertain whether they could undertake the additional duties which would be thrown upon them by the change without the provision of any additional staff, or whether any additional staff will be required.

The District and Sessions Judge of Bakarganj states that the second Additional District and Sessions Judge, who acted for eight months in 1919 and 1920, and for nine months in 1921, should be made permanent. He suggests that this would necessitate the usual ministerial staff. He further suggests that a Sub-Judge should be vested with the powers of an Assistant Sessions Judge and empowered to hear appeals from second and third class magistrates. We recommend that the second Additional District and Sessions Judge should be made permanent at an approximate annual additional cost of Rs. 7,000. His staff could be furnished from that of the Additional District Magistrate, whom we think no longer necessary.

The District and Sessions Judge of Bankura states that he could hear appeals and carry out his inspections without additional assistance.

The District and Sessions Judge of Birbhum says that he would require the assistance of a Sub-Judge for three months in the year to enable him to carry out this work. We think this estimate is reasonable, and it would involve an approximate additional expenditure of Rs. 3,000 annually, taking the salary of a Sub-Judge at Rs. 1,000 a month.

The District and Sessions Judge of Bogra, who is also the District and Sessions Judge of Pabna, suggests that it would be necessary to appoint a whole time District and Sessions Judge for Bogra. The effect of this would be to give Bogra a whole time District and Sessions Judge of its own, who, with the assistance of the Sub-Judge there, who now acts as an Assistant Sessions Judge, could deal with the additional work resulting from separation. This seems to us reasonable and would involve an additional approximate expenditure of Rs. 21,000 annually for salary (taking the salary of a District and Sessions Judge at Rs. 1,750 monthly) and the cost of his establishment which we estimate at Rs. 4,000 approximately, taking into account the staff which will be available by transfer from the District Magistrate and from the Judge's civil establishment. Some members of the Committee think that the existing arrangement of the union of Bogra and Pabna should be continued, and an additional Sub-Judge appointed to deal with the increase of work.

The District and Sessions Judge of Burdwan, who is at present assisted during part of the year by an Additional District and Sessions Judge, states that this officer should be made a permanent whole time officer to enable him to cope with the additional duties necessitated by the scheme of division. This seems to us reasonable and would involve an approximate additional annual expenditure of Rs. 10,500.

The District and Sessions Judge of Chittagong suggests that the Additional District and Sessions Judge, who now sits for four months at Chittagong, should sit there each year for six months to enable him to do the additional work. This seems reasonable and would involve an additional annual expenditure of Rs. 3,500.

The District and Sessions Judge of Dacca states that either an Additional District and Sessions Judge should be appointed to cope with the work or an additional Sub-Judge, vested with the powers of an Assistant Sessions Judge and empowered to hear appeals from second and third class magistrates.

We think that the appointment of a Sub-Judge, as suggested by the District and Sessions Judge, would meet the case, and this would involve an additional annual expenditure of Rs. 12,000 for the Judge. The District Judge also states that an additional sherishtadar and two clerks would be necessary. We think that these should be provided by a transfer from the staff of the Additional District Magistrate, who, whether retained or not, will be relieved of his judicial and magisterial work.

The District and Sessions Judge of Dinajpur, who is also District and Sessions Judge of Jalpaiguri and of Darjeeling, thinks that the additional work would necessitate the appointment of a whole time District and Sessions Judge for Dinajpur, and that there should be a separate whole time District and Sessions Judge for Jalpaiguri and Darjeeling. His opinion is supported by the figures which he has laid before us. We think that this demand is reasonable. Some members of the Committee think that the existing arrangement of the union of Dinajpur, Jalpaiguri and Darjeeling should be continued, and an additional Sub-Judge appointed to deal with the increase of work.

The District and Sessions Judge of Faridpur estimates that a full time extra Additional District and Sessions Judge should be appointed in view of the extra work. This estimate seems to us excessive, but we would allow an Additional District and Sessions Judge for six months annually, which would involve an approximate additional expenditure of Rs. 10,500 annually and the provision of additional accommodation at a cost of approximately Rs. 6,000.

The District and Sessions Judge of Hooghly, who is also the District and Sessions Judge of Howrah, estimates that the appointment of an Additional District and Sessions Judge for six months annually will enable the extra work of the two districts to be dealt with. He states that accommodation is available at Chinsurah. We think that there should be a separate District and Sessions Judge for each of the districts of Howrah and Hooghly. We have consulted the Additional District and Sessions Judge of Hooghly stationed at Howrah. His opinion is that a separate Judgeship can be created for Howrah without additional cost. It would probably be necessary to give him the assistance of an Additional District and Sessions Judge for three months every year to enable him to cope with the extra work involved in the separation of functions. We therefore estimate an approximate additional annual expenditure of Rs. 10,500 for the two districts, that is to say, by providing Hooghly with the assistance of an Additional District and Sessions Judge for three months every year and giving Howrah the same assistance.

The District and Sessions Judge of Jessore states that, if the arrangement is adhered to whereby the Additional District and Sessions Judge who also works at Khulna is to work at Jessore for five and a half months in the year, no additional assistance will be necessary.

Under the arrangement recommended for Dinajpur, it will be necessary to appoint a whole time District and Sessions Judge for Jalpaiguri and Darjeeling at an approximate cost of Rs. 21,000 annually for salary and Rs. 4,000 annually for establishment, taking into account the staff which will be available by transfer from the District Magistrate and from the Judge's civil establishment. This would involve the provision of additional accommodation at an approximate cost of Rs. 15,000. As already stated some members of the Committee think that the union of Jalpaiguri, Darjeeling and Dinajpur should continue, and that a Sub-Judge should be appointed to deal with the increase of work.

The District and Sessions Judge of Khulna estimates that, if the Additional District and Sessions Judge who also sits at Jessore and who in 1921 worked in Khulna for eighty-five days, sits in Khulna for an additional eighty-five days in the year, the additional work could be dealt with. This seems reasonable, and the approximate additional annual expenditure would be Rs. 7,000 (i.e., four months at Rs. 1,750).

The work at Malda is done by the District and Sessions Judge of Rajshahi, who states that he will require assistance at Malda. He thinks that a Sub-Judge with powers of an Assistant Sessions Judge should be deputed for this purpose. We think this assistance should be afforded for six months annually at a cost approximately of Rs. 6,000. Some of the Committee, however, think that it is essential to have a responsible head of the magistracy in each district and that, instead of providing an additional Sub-Judge for Rajshahi and Malda combined, a District and Sessions Judge should be appointed for Malda alone.

The District and Sessions Judge of Midnapore states that he would require the Additional District and Sessions Judge, whom he now shares with Burdwan, for the whole year. This seems reasonable and would involve an additional annual expenditure of Rs. 10,500.

The District and Sessions Judge of Murshidabad estimates that he would need the assistance of an Additional District and Sessions Judge for six months every second year. This seems reasonable and would involve an additional annual expenditure of Rs. 5,250.

The District and Sessions Judge of Mymensingh estimates that, if the Sub-Judge, vested with the powers of an Assistant Sessions Judge, who is temporarily posted to Mymensingh, is permanently retained, he could cope with the additional work. This involves no additional cost.

The District and Sessions Judge of Nadia estimates that he would require no additional assistance.

The District and Sessions Judge of Noakhali states that the Additional District and Sessions Judge, who is temporarily posted to Noakhali, should be made permanent, and also thinks that possibly a second Additional District and Sessions Judge would be required for a time. We think that the Additional District and Sessions Judge should be made permanent and this involves no additional cost.

The District and Sessions Judge of Pabna estimates that, if his suggestions as regards Bogra are carried out, no additional assistance would be necessary at Pabna.

The District and Sessions Judge of Rajshahi estimates that no additional assistance would be required if the scheme outlined above for Malda be carried out.

The District and Sessions Judge of Rangpur states that he would require an additional judicial officer to cope with the extra work but, on the figures, we think that no assistance need be given.

The District and Sessions Judge of Tippera estimates that, if the Additional District and Sessions Judge who now sits for eight months in the year be continued throughout the year, he can deal with the work. This seems reasonable and involves an additional annual expenditure of Rs. 7,000.

The District and Sessions Judge of the 24-Parganas estimates that an Additional District and Sessions Judge will be required. We think that it might be possible to deal with the increased work by the appointment of a Sub-Judge. This will cost annually Rs. 12,000, and will involve additional accommodation at a cost of approximately Rs. 15,000.

The additional expenditure accordingly involved in giving the necessary assistance to District and Sessions Judges by reason of the transfer of the District Officer's present judicial and magisterial duties amounts approximately to Rs. 1,54,750 annually, and the cost of additional buildings thereby necessitated amounts approximately to Rs. 36,000.

17. Additional District Magistrates.—In October 1921 there were Additional District Magistrates in the following districts, namely, Bakarganj, Chittagong, Dacca, Midnapore, Mymensingh, Tippera and the 24-Parganas. In Bakarganj the greater part of this officer's time is occupied in criminal work, and we think that, if separation is effected, this officer may be abolished. This will effect an annual saving of approximately Rs. 18,000 (counting the monthly salary at Rs. 1,500), but it might be necessary to give an extra Deputy Collector to assist the District Officer at an approximate cost of Rs. 6,000. The net saving would thus be Rs. 12,000.

In Chittagong three-fifths of the time of the Additional District Magistrate is occupied in criminal work, and we think that, if separation is effected, this officer may be abolished at a net annual saving of Rs. 12,000, allowing for the cost of an additional Deputy Collector at Rs. 6,000.

In Dacca three-fourths of the time of the Additional District Magistrate is occupied in criminal work, and the Commissioner of the Dacca Division, whom we examined, thought that on separation this officer might be dispensed with. Upon the figures this is so, but Dacca is a large district with the second largest city in the province as its headquarters, and we understand that difficulties might be occasioned if the officer were abolished, even if assistance were given to the District Officer by the appointment of an extra Deputy Collector. Some of us think that it might be possible on separation to abolish this officer, others think otherwise, and we have accordingly not taken into account any saving that might be effected by the abolition of this officer.

In Midnapore and Mymensingh half the time of the Additional District Magistrates is occupied in criminal work, but in these districts we think that an Additional District Officer must remain. Some members of the Committee, however, think that these officers might be dispensed with and selected Deputy Collectors appointed in their place.

In Tippera one-third of the Additional District Magistrate's time is occupied in criminal work, and we think that on separation this officer should be abolished at a net saving of Rs. 12,000, allowing an extra Deputy Collector at Rs. 6,000 to assist the District Officer.

In the 24-Parganas four-fifths of the time of the Additional District Magistrate is taken up in criminal work. The District Magistrate admits that upon the figures this officer should be abolished upon separation being effected, but he states that he cannot properly administer the district without his assistance, and that at the present time there is not sufficient inspection done of the district generally. For the purposes of this report, we assume a net saving of Rs. 12,000 annually, allowing an extra Deputy Collector to assist the District Officer. Under the head of Additional District Magistrates there will thus upon separation be a gross saving of Rs. 72,000 annually, but an increase of Rs. 24,000 annually by the provision of four Deputy Collectors, making a net saving of Rs. 48,000 annually. Some members of the Committee think that it is not necessary to allow additional Deputy Collectors in the districts of Bakarganj, Chittagong, Tippera and the 24-Parganas.

18. District headquarters.—So far as the headquarters of the districts are concerned, it will be possible to divide the existing staff between the executive and judicial branches without any considerable increase of staff There is no doubt that the present system has great advantages so far as elasticity is concerned. Under it, when criminal work is for the time being on the increase, it is possible to deal with the increase by deputing for criminal work those who ordinarily devote most of their time to revenue and administrative work, and vice versa. This will no longer be possible when separation is affected, and so it is necessary, in making the division, to secure that there is an adequate staff in all branches capable in normal times of dealing with the work. In some districts this involves an increase of staff. Where for example the time at present of 2½ officers is occupied in criminal work and that of 2½ officers in revenue and administration work, and five officers could do the work at headquarters under the existing system, it may be necessary to have six officers, three for each branch, by reason of the separation of functions.

We have considered whether further assistance could be obtained from the Honorary Magistrates, sitting either singly or in benches. There seem a large number of them in every district (as shown in the Civil List), but we are told that their attendance with some exceptions is irregular, and that, whilst often the quality of their work is good, their irregularity of attendance, with the resulting slow disposals, makes it unlikely that any real relief can be obtained from this source. Some members of the Committee, however, think that more use could be made of Honorary Magistrates, and that the recommendation of names for appointment should come through the judicial officers or through a Committee consisting of the District and Sessions Judge, the District Officer and a representative of the local bar, and that regular attendance should be made a condition of such service, and that Honorary Magistrates should be subject to immediate removal in case of inefficiency or non-attendance.

We are not unmindful that, if division takes place, it may be possible to employ in the trial of criminal cases both Sub-Judges and Munsifs, but these officers are already fully occupied with civil work and their employment in criminal cases would necessitate an increase in their number. We have worked out in the schedules for the different districts, which accompany this report, the additional staff necessitated at district headquarters by the proposed change, showing in the first column the existing staff and the numbers of those with first, second or third class powers. In the second column we have shown the time at present occupied by them in criminal work and in the third and fourth columns the estimated staff required for the separated functions. The fifth column shows the increased staff in our opinion necessitated by the separation, and columns 6 and 7 give the increase of clerical and other staff and of buildings necessitated by the change, and the last two columns contain an estimate of the total cost which the change will necessitate recurring and non-recurring. In the remarks column we have indicated the assistance which, in our opinion, should be given to the District and Sessions Judge and the additional accommodation required.

So far as the clerical staff at headquarters is concerned, this in some districts is divided into those dealing with criminal matters and those dealing with revenue and administration. Where there is no such division, this can probably be effected without difficulty. We do not think that this should involve any considerable increase of the clerical staff. We have been told that in some districts a large increase of this staff will be necessary, but we are inclined to think that, if a spirit of accommodation is displayed, this will not be necessary. Again it is said that difficulties would occur by reason of the staff being in one room, part after division being under the control of the District Magistrate and part under that of the District Judge, and that difficulties would also occur with regard to the head clerk, and that an additional head clerk might be necessary, so that each staff might have a separate head.

Doubtless it will be better if separate accommodation be provided, but to give full effect to this would render the scheme unduly costly, and we are not convinced of the immediate necessity for this, although ultimately it may be necessary. For the present we think that it will be sufficient if the existing accommodation is re-arranged where necessary. We estimate as a round figure for the twenty-five district headquarters with which we are dealing an annual additional expenditure of Rs. 12,500 for the provision of additional clerical staff. So far as process-serving is concerned, at present the same staff under one nazir serve both criminal and revenue processes, and it is suggested that, after division of functions, this arrangement would not be satisfactory. If a division of the process-serving staff is necessary, this might be effected either by transferring the staff for the service of criminal judicial processes to the District Judge and by making the civil nazir the head of both staffs, or by dividing the staff and appointing an additional nazir. Under this head, for increase of process-servers and the provision of additional head nazirs, we would estimate as a round figure for the twenty-five district headquarters an increased annual cost of approximately Rs. 12,500.

The estimated increased cost at headquarters necessitated by the scheme is approximately Rs. 63,040 recurring (that is to say, Rs. 38,040 for personnel, Rs. 12,500 for increase of clerical staff, and Rs. 12,500 for increase of the process-serving staff), and non-recurring approximately Rs. 14,000.

19. Subdivisions.—The division of functions in the subdivisions presents some difficulty, especially in the smaller ones. In these the staff consists as a rule of one Deputy Magistrate Deputy Collector, who is the Subdivisional Officer, and of a Sub-Deputy Collector with one or more Circle Officers who tour some twenty days a month.

In the ordinary small subdivision it would be necessary, we think, to have in all cases two officers of the position of Deputy Collector, one of whom would be the Subdivisional Magistrate employed solely in judicial work, the other being the Subdivisional Officer employed solely in revenue and administration work. This would involve in small subdivisions, where there is at present a Deputy Magistrate Deputy Collector and a Sub-Deputy Magistrate Sub-Deputy Collector, the additional cost of having a Deputy Collector in place of a Sub-Deputy Collector, but this is not all. The Subdivisional Officer tours some ninety days a year, and is often ten or fifteen days away from the subdivisional headquarters. This therefore necessitates, unless the sub-treasury is to be closed during his absence, the provision of an additional Sub-Deputy Collector in each of the smaller subdivisions to open the sub-treasury in the absence of the Subdivisional Officer on tour. But for this he would not be required, and he is in some sense a redundancy necessitated by the division of functions.

We have considered if there is any way to avoid this. The Subdivisional Magistrate clearly could not perform the duty of opening the sub-treasury. He will be under the control and direction of the District Judge, with no responsibility to the Subdivisional Officer or to the District Officer. The only alternative suggested is that one or other of the Circle Officers, where there are Circle Officers, should be deputed for this duty in the absence of the Subdivisional Officer on tour, but this would partially remove the Circle Officers from the performance of the special duties for which they were appointed. Consequently in many of the smaller subdivisions, where communications are bad and where the Subdivisional Officer when touring is absent for some days from his headquarters, division of functions involves the appointment of an additional Sub-Deputy Collector, unless the Circle Officers are utilised for opening the sub-treasuries in the absence on tour of the Subdivisional Officers, and we are disposed to recommend that this latter alternative be accepted. The provision of an additional officer would also in some cases necessitate the provision of additional accommodation in the smaller subdivisions. Most subdivisional offices are already, it is stated, over crowded and cannot accommodate an additional officer. It was suggested to us in evidence that it might be possible so to re-arrange the revenue work at the district headquarters that more might be devolved on the subdivisions, so that the cost of an additional officer in the subdivision might be compensated for by a decrease of the headquarters' staff. But this involves the consideration of matters which we think are outside the scope of our enquiry and we have not pursued the matter.

A difficulty and possible increase of cost arises with regard to housing. In the subdivisions the Subdivisional Officer is provided with a house rent-free, and it is suggested that the Subdivisional Magistrate, an officer of equal rank, will also expect a house to be provided. Moreover it is said that this in any case will be necessary owing to the difficulty in most subdivisions of finding any housing accommodation whatsoever. If the Subdivisional Officer is provided with a house rent-free, the Subdivisional Magistrate must be treated on an equal footing and given a house allowance, which would involve for the fifty-four subdivisions an expenditure of approximately Rs. 32,400 annually. Some of us, however, think that both officers should pay rent for any housing accommodation which is provided. The same questions arise in the subdivisions as at headquarters with regard to the clerical staff and the service of processes, but it is not necessary to discuss this again in this connection, and we think that the combined process-serving may remain in the subdivisions as heretofore, until it is proved by experience that difficulties arise. If there is to be a separation of process-serving, this would involve the appointment of an additional nazir and possibly of additional process-servers, which we estimate approximately would involve an additional cost of say Rs. 12,500 for the subdivisions. We would add Rs. 12,500 for additional clerical assistance.

In the schedules already referred to will be found similar figures with regard to the subdivisions to those set out with regard to headquarters. We estimate the additional cost of the scheme in the subdivisions at Rs. 3,41,860 recurring and Rs. 1,03,000 non-recurring. The recurring expenditure is made up of Rs. 2,84,460 for personnel (in respect of which a saving of Rs. 63,000 could be effected if the Circle Officer opens the sub-treasury when the Subdivisional Officer is on tour) and Rs. 25,000 for extra clerical assistance and for process-servers and Rs. 32,400 for housing allowance.

20. Assistance required by the High Court by reason of the scheme.— The Committee addressed the High Court in order to ascertain whether, in their opinion, the transfer of the control and supervision of magistrates to the High Court, as recommended in paragraph 12 (f) of this report, would necessitate the provision of any additional assistance. To this enquiry the High Court replied that a large measure of additional assistance, involving considerable expenditure, would be necessary, but that they were not prepared at that time upon short notice to state what form the additional assistance should take. Accordingly it should be borne in mind, in calculating the cost of the scheme, that the cost of possible additional assistance to the High Court must be taken into account. As against this, however, must be set a possible saving to be effected in the staff of the Local Government which now deals with this work.

21. We sum up the cost of our proposals as follows :—

A Note of Dissent on the Report regarding the separation of the Judicial and Executive Functions.

It is not without regret that I submit this note of dissent on a vital point, with regard to which my colleagues and I could not see eye to eye, or even effect a settlement satisfactory to all. My regret is all the more, as throughout our labour we were able to square our differences and come to an agreement in every matter, which came up before us for decision.

The difference, which has resulted in this note of dissent, is with regard to the preventive sections of the Criminal Procedure Code which are contained in Chapters VIII to XII inclusive of that Code.

I am of opinion that the powers under these sections should be taken away from the executive officers and transferred to the District Judges and judicial officers under them. I am prepared to allow the executive officers to retain the power of initiating or drawing up proceedings under these sections, but the hearing should take place before a judicial officer.

I am not unmindful of cases of emergency, which may arise under these sections, necessitating immediate action, but I do not see any reason why such cases will not be expeditiously dealt with by judicial officers, if there be a High Court order, as recommended by us in the report, requiring judicial officers to speedily dispose of all matters marked as urgent by executive officers.

If, however, the Government think that in the interest of law and order the executive officers should be allowed themselves to make orders under sections 107, 108, 109 and 110, in cases of emergency, I should certainly like to restrict such powers to the District Officers and to the Subdivisional Officers only. By this I mean that officers under them should under no circumstances be empowered to make orders under these sections. I should also like to provide that such orders of the District Officer should always be revised by the District Judge, and those of the Subdivisional Officers by the subdivisional judicial officers, so that the convicted parties may obtain immediate relief on the spot, if law is on their side. Such a provision will virtually give the District and Subdivisional Officers power to make only conditional orders, in cases of emergency which may arise under these sections. When I urge for it, I certainly do not apprehend injustice in the hands of the executive officers, but I really do so as, in my opinion, no separation of the judicial and executive functions can be properly effected without transferring the powers under the aforesaid proventive sections from the executive to the judicial officers.

I am also opposed to the executive officers being vested with the power to make provisional orders under the last proviso of section 145 (4).

CALCUTTA,

A Note on Honorary Magistrates of Bengal.

I am deliberately of opinion that, in order to minimise the cost of effecting a complete separation of the judicial and executive functions, and with a view to increase the quality and quantity of work done by Honorary Magistrates, the inefficient amongst them should be got rid of, but their numerical strength, on the whole, should be considerably increased. Suitable men, in my opinion, are available, but they must be sought and taken in by careful selection on improved methods of recruitment. To properly develope and augment this source, it is desirable—

(1) that Honorary Magistrates should be appointed by the Local Government on the recommendation of the High Court ;

(2) that the District Judge should forward to the High Court names of such persons as are willing and qualified to be Honorary Magistrates with full particulars of each ;

(3) that not only the judicial magistrates of every subdivision, but also recognised public bodies, such as Municipalities, District Boards and Local Boards, should be invited to forward to the District Judge names of such persons as are willing and qualified to be Honorary Magistrates ;

(4) that the High Court should make such binding rules and regulations, on the basis of an agreement, as will ensure regular attendance on the part of and speedy disposal of cases by Honorary Magistrates ;

(5) that Honorary Munsifs should be appointed, on cautious experimental lines, to try petty civil cases, so that both Sub-Judges and Munsifs may be employed, on grounds of economy, in the trial of important criminal cases, when the separation is effected ;

(6) that the Government should appoint a representative committee to elaborately deal with the question and formulate a practical scheme, if possible, on lines herein suggested.

Additional Notes.

For the purpose of our joint report, I should like to add that, as the committee had to form their opinion with regard to the numerical strength of the staff and extra accommodation required on the figures placed before them, assuming that they were correct and unalterable, it is highly desirable that Government should carefully test the accuracy of those figures and see if economy could be effected by revising the daily routine of officers concerned and reorganising their work, with an eye to economy and retrenchment.

I should also like to add, with a view to avoid additional expenditure, that it may not be found necessary to keep both the Board of Revenue and Commissioners of Divisions, when the whole system is reorganised under the present scheme, if it is given effect to.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

APPOINTMENT DEPARTMENT.

CALCUTTA, THE 24TH NOVEMBER 1922.

RESOLUTION—No. 13043A.

READ—

Resolution of this Government No. 6287A., dated the 19th August 1921.

UNDER the orders contained in the resolution cited, the Governor in Council appointed a committee to elaborate a practical working scheme for the separation of executive and judicial functions in the administration of Bengal and to report on the cost thereof. This committee, which was presided over by the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Greaves, commenced its sitting in the beginning of November 1921 and concluded its labours towards the end of the following January, when the report was submitted to Government. In order that the report might be placed before the public with the considered views of Government, the Governor in Council consulted the local officers on the scheme formulated in the report and on the estimate of cost framed by the committee, and the views of the High Court, which is obviously closely concerned with any scheme of this kind, were also invited. As the delay thus incurred is longer than was anticipated, His Excellency in Council is pleased to order the publication of the report for present information. Owing to considerations of economy the appendices to the report have not been printed.

2. The Governor in Council desires to take this opportunity of acknowledging the services rendered by the President, the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Greaves, and by the members of the committee. The thanks of Government are also due to the Hon'ble the Chief Justice for having made the services of Mr. Justice Greaves available in the present connection.

ORDER.—Ordered that the resolution together with the report be published in the Gazette and that copies be forwarded to the principal newspapers and representative associations in Bengal.

Ordered also that copies of the report be forwarded to selected officers and departments of Government whom the report may concern.

By order of the Governor in Council,

A. CASSELLS,

Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal (offg.).

Dredging.—The suction hopper dredger "Karnafuli I" was at work on the Inner and Outer Bars for 209 days during the year, dredging 8,853,750 cubic feet at a cost of Rs. 1-14 per hundred cubic feet. The dredger was 38 days at Calcutta for annual overhaul and stopped work for another 61 days on account of coaling, holidays and bad weather.

Survey.—The annual engineering survey from the mouth of the river to seven miles above Sadarghat jetty and periodic surveys of the Active Spit, Inner and Outer Bars were made during the year. Other miscellaneous observations were taken, but disclosed no marked improvement in the navigable channel. The Karnafuli river was re-surveyed during the year under the direction of the Port Officer.

Revetment.—Repairs to the stone revetment were carried out at Gupta Point and other places along the foreshore.

Light-houses and Light-vessels.—The light-houses and light-vessels were maintained in good order during the year. During the absence of the light-vessel "Sarsuti" from her station for annual overhaul and repairs, a 54-ton country brig was used as a temporary light-vessel.

Shipping.—The total number of vessels, ocean-going, inland, and sailing craft, which entered the port was 813 as against 826 during 1920-21. There was one accident to vessels in charge of Pilots and Harbour Masters and two preliminary enquiries were held. A special Court of Enquiry was appointed by Government under section 7 of the Indian Merchant Shipping Act, 1883, to investigate the circumstances attending the grounding of the SS. "Shahjehan" and the collision between that vessel the SS. "Radhagovinda" and the barque "Bikrampur" in the Chittagong river. The finding of the Court was accepted by Government.

Trade.—The total value of foreign and coasting sea-borne trade was Rs. 770 lakhs which showed a decrease of 1·92 per cent. on the preceding year.

Detention of Vessels.— The SS. "Dover Maru" was detained outside for two days for want of sufficient depth of water over the bars.

Sanitation.—The general health of the port was good.

General.—Mr. K. C. De, C.I.E., I.C.S., was Chairman of the Port Commissioners up to July 1921, when Mr. A. H. Clayton, I.C.S., took over charge. Commander E. C. Withers, C.I.E., R.I.M., carried out the duties of the Port Officer and Secretary to the Port Commissioners during the year.

Rule.

Insert the following after Rule 43, at page 71, Chapter II, Volume I, of the Court's General Rules and Circular Orders, Civil :—

"Rules framed by the High Court under section 50 of the Guardians and Wards Act, 1890 (VIII of 1890), for the guidance of guardians ad-litem of minor defendants and minor respondents."

I.—ORIGINAL SUITS.

43A. (1) Where there are both major and minor defendants and there is no appearance, the guardian should communicate with the natural guardian of the minor as well as with the major defendants by registered reply post-card in which the subject-matter of the suit should be briefly stated.

(2) Where the sole defendant is a minor, the aforesaid communication should be addressed to his natural guardian.

(3) If no response is received to the communication mentioned in sub-rules (1) and (2), or if the response is not helpful and the guardian is unable to have a personal interview with the defendants or their agents, he should report the fact to the court with a statement of the circumstances and apply for leave to go to the locality for necessary enquiry.

(4) The guardian's report on such local enquiry, if permitted, should contain the following particulars —

(a) Date and hour of departure for the locality.
(b) Mode of journey, viz., whether by rail or steamer or boat or road.
(c) Date and hour of reaching the locality.
(d) The names of persons who identify the minor.
(e) Age of the minor as stated by the minor's people and as estimated by the guardian.
(f) The names and residences of persons in whose presence the enquiry is held.
(g) Whether the minor has any defence.
(h) If there is defence, what is the nature of it and what benefit is expected to accrue to the minor out of the defence.
(i) Whether the minor or his people are able and prepared to meet the costs of the defence, and if not, what is the probable amount of such costs.
(j) If no defence is filed, the reasons thereof together with the statements of the persons on whose report the decision is arrived at.

(5) In case the court refuses to grant leave for local enquiry, the guardian will proceed according to the instructions of the court given in each case.

(6) Where in response to the communication mentioned in sub-rule (2) or otherwise, the minor or his natural guardian, or any other persons on his behalf, come and see the guardian, his subsequent proceedings and report should conform as far as applicable to sub-rule (4) (g) to (j).

(7) The guardian's report mentioned in sub-rules (4) and (6) may contain such other facts as he may think necessary to bring to the notice of the court.

(8) In petty rent suits and money suits the court shall exercise stricter vigilance before granting leave to the guardian ad-litem to go to the locality for enquiry.

II.—APPEALS.

(9) The foregoing rules will apply mutatis mutandis to the guardians of minor respondents subject to the following rules.

(10) If no response is made to the registered post-card mentioned is sub-rule (1), he should, before applying for leave to go to the locality, similarly communicate with the pleader who conducted the case in the lower court on behalf of the minor or his predecessor-in-interest, and ascertain from him if possible the probable cause of the non-appearance of the minor, reporting the result to the court.

(11) If the step taken under the last preceding sub-rule does not elicit any satisfactory results, the guardian should consult the record and submit a report to the court in which he should state whether in his opinion the judgment and decree of the lower court can be supported, and if such opinion is in the affirmative, why he should not argue the case himself before the court. A written note on the merits of the case should accompany the report.

(12) An amount estimated to cover the actual travelling and halting expenses of the guardian, not exceeding the scale laid down by rule 43B, will be required by the court to be deposited by the party at whose instance the guardian is appointed, before an order is passed for a local enquiry mentioned in sub-rule (3). The amount so deposited or so much of it as may be found due will be paid out to the guardian when he has submitted his report mentioned in sub-rule (4).
